Supplemental Therapy Resources

On your journey, therapy is just one aspect of wellness that supports your mental health. The AHM team has cultivated a number of psychoeducational materials to supplement your therapeutic work outside of session. These resources are meant to act as additions to therapy, not as a substitute. We have curated a diverse directory to meet the diverse needs of those we serve, so not every resource will be a fit for every individual. Work collaboratively with your therapist for personalized recommendations and please be aware that resources may contain sensitive topics and issues that may be triggering to some individuals, so please consider this potential impact and consult directly with your therapist for personalized recommendations.

Books

Title/Link	Categories	Comments/Why We Love/Connection To Mental Health
The Gifts of Imperfection by Brené Brown	Perfectionism, Authenticity, Joy	Description from the publisher: “A motivational and inspiring guide to wholehearted living, rather than just the average self-help book, with this groundbreaking work Brené Brown, Ph.D., bolsters the self-esteem and personal development process through her characteristic heartfelt, honest storytelling. With original research and plenty of encouragement, she explores the psychology of releasing our definitions of an “imperfect” life and embracing living authentically.”
The Body Keeps the Score: Brain, Mind, and Body in the Healing of Trauma by Bessel van der Kolk	Trauma, Somatic Body Work	A biological understanding of how trauma can impact our bodies and minds.
Ethical Slut by Dossie Easton &amp; Janet Hardy	Ethical Non-Monogamy, Boundaries	A guide for singles and couples who want to explore polyamory in ways that are ethically and emotionally sustainable.
Adult Children of Emotionally Immature Parents by Lindsay C. Gibson	Family Dynamics, Self Discovery	Excellent perspective and helpful insight and advice for anyone who grew up in a family with an emotionally immature parent where their own emotional needs were not met.
Daring Greatly by Brené Brown	Authenticity, Vulnerability, Shame, Showing Up	Description from the publisher: “Every day we experience the uncertainty, risks, and emotional exposure that define what it means to be vulnerable or to dare greatly. Based on twelve years of pioneering research, Brené Brown PhD, LMSW, dispels the cultural myth that vulnerability is weakness and argues that it is, in truth, our most accurate measure of courage.
Know My Name by Chanel Miller	Sexual Assault, Healing From Trauma, Resilience	Powerful and emotional. Understanding what trauma looks like through the eyes of a sexual assault survivor. Lots of deep and heartfelt/heart wrenching insight into how sexual assault and rape is handled in our culture and justice system.
Not All Black Girls Know How to Eat by Stephanie Covington Armstrong	Eating Disorders, BLM, Poverty, Foster Care, Sexual Abuse	Description from the publisher: “In this moving first-person narrative, Armstrong describes her struggle as a black woman with a disorder consistently portrayed as a white woman’s problem. Trying to escape her self hatred and her food obsession by never slowing down, Stephanie becomes trapped in a downward spiral. Finally, she can no longer deny that she will die if she doesn’t get help, overcome her shame, and conquer her addiction to using food as a weapon against herself.”

What a Time to Be Alone by Chidera Eggerue	Self Care, Personal Power, Boundary Setting, Being Your Own Partner And Best Friend	Lighthearted, relatable, easy read, graphically beautiful, great tips and advice about setting boundaries and self care. Helps validate and empower us to feel like we are enough and that being alone is not only okay but sometimes what is best for us.
Life is a Verb by Patti Digh	Living With Intention	Description from the publisher: "In October 2003, Patti Digh's stepfather was diagnosed with lung cancer. He died 37 days later. The time frame made an impression on her. What emerged was a commitment to ask herself every morning: What would I be doing today if I had only 37 days left to live? The answers changed her life and led to this new kind of book. Part meditation, part how-to guide, part memoir, Life is a Verb is all heart."
The Productivity Project by Chris Bailey	Productivity, Balance, Energy Management	From the authors website: Inside you'll find a treasure trove of productivity tactics, like: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>-Consuming caffeine strategically, not habitually.</li> <li>-Scheduling less time for important tasks.</li> <li>-Slowing down to work more deliberately.</li> <li>-Shrinking and eliminating the unimportant.</li> <li>-Striving for imperfection.</li> <li>-The 20 second rule to distract yourself from the inevitable distractions.</li> <li>-The idea of productive procrastination.</li> </ul>
Radical Self Acceptance by Tara Brach *Audiobook/CD	Self Acceptance, Releasing From Shame	Easy meditations for beginners and guidance for accepting ourselves and releasing ourselves from shame. Helpful perspectives on empathy and understanding not only for ourselves and our pain and shame but for others as well.

Movies & TV

Title/Link	Categories	Comments/Why We Love/Connection To Mental Health
13th	BLM, Mass Incarceration	Film: Documentary (2016). Description from Netflix: "In this thought-provoking documentary, scholars, activists and politicians analyze the criminalization of African Americans and the U.S. prison boom."
Say Her Name: The Life and Death of Sandra Bland	BLM	Film: Documentary (2018). Description from HBO: "Say Her Name: The Life and Death of Sandra Bland explores the death of Sandra Bland, a politically active 28-year-old African American who, after being arrested for a traffic violation in a small Texas town, was found hanging in her jail cell three days later. Dashcam footage revealing her arrest went viral, leading to national protests."
Crip Camp: A Disability Revolution	Disability, Disability Awareness	Film: Documentary (2020). Description from Netflix: "A groundbreaking summer camp galvanizes a group of teens with disabilities to help build a movement, forging a new path toward greater equality."
Disclosure	LGBTQ+, Trans Awareness	Film: Documentary (2020). Description from the film website: "DISCLOSURE shows audiences that decades-old stereotypes, memes, and tropes in the media both form and reflect our understanding of trans issues. They have shaped the cultural narrative about transgender people, and inform everything from dating and domestic violence, to school policy and national legislation. Since 80% of the population have never met a transgender person, all they know is rooted in media depictions, which are predominantly problematic and have rarely included participation by actual trans people. DISCLOSURE is aimed at that 80%."
The Mask You Live In	Gender Issues, Cultural Definitions of Masculinity	Film: Documentary (2015). Description from The Representation Project: "The Mask You Live In follows boys and young men as they struggle to stay true to themselves while negotiating America's narrow definition of masculinity."
Bully	Bullying	Film: Documentary (2011). Description from The Bully Project: "BULLY is a beautifully cinematic, character-driven documentary. At its heart are those with huge stakes in this issue whose stories each represent a different facet of America's bullying crisis. Filmed over the course of the 2009/2010 school year, BULLY opens a window onto the pained and often endangered lives of bullied kids, revealing a problem that transcends geographic, racial, ethnic and economic borders."
Audrie &amp; Daisy	Sexual Assault, Bullying, Depression, Suicide	Film: Documentary (2016). Description from the Audrie & Daisy film website: "AUDRIE & DAISY is an urgent real-life drama that examines the ripple effects on families, friends, schools and communities when two underage young women find that sexual assault crimes against them have been caught on camera."

Miss Representation	Representation of Women in the Media	Film: Documentary (2011). Description from The Representation Project: “The film draws back a curtain to reveal a glaring reality we live with every day but fail to see – how the media’s limited and often disparaging portrayals of women and girls makes it difficult for women to feel powerful and achieve leadership positions.”
Closure	Adoption, Trans-racial Adoption, Family Dynamics	Film: Documentary (2013). Description from the film website: “A documentary about a transracial adoptee who finds her birth mother, and meets the rest of a family who didn’t know she existed, including her birth father. A story about identity, the complexities of trans-racial adoption, and most importantly, closure.”
Sound &amp; Fury	Deaf Community and Culture, Deaf Awareness	Film: Documentary (2000). Description from the IMDb website: “If you could make your deaf child hear, would you? Academy Award-nominated Sound and Fury follows the intimate, heart-rending tale of the Artinians, an extended family with deaf and hearing members across three generations. Together they confront a technological device that can help the deaf to hear but may also threaten deaf culture - and their bonds with each other.”
Hoop Dreams	BLM	Film: Documentary (1994). Description from the IMDb website: “A film following the lives of two inner-city Chicago boys who struggle to become college basketball players on the road to going professional.”
Murderball	Disability, Disability Awareness	Film: Documentary (2005). Description from the IMDb website: “Quadriplegics, who play full-contact rugby in wheelchairs, overcome unimaginable obstacles to compete in the Paralympic Games in Athens, Greece.”
Hillbilly	Hillbilly” Stereotypes in Media & Culture, Diversity in Appalachia	Film: Documentary (2018). Description from Hillbilly film website: “It introduces audiences to a nuanced, authentic Appalachia that is quite conscious of how it has been portrayed and the impacts of those portrayals. The documentary deconstructs mainstream representations while asking crucial questions: Where did the hillbilly archetype come from and why has it endured on-screen for more than a hundred years? How does it relate to the exploitation of the land and people who live there? How do Appalachian and rural people view themselves as a result of these negative portrayals, and what is the impact on the rest of America?”
Visible: Out on Television	LGBTQ+ Awareness	TV Series: Documentary (2020). Description from AppleTV: “Explore the history of the American LGBTQ movement through the lens of TV in this five-part docuseries.”
Aging Out	Foster Care, Non-Minor Dependents	Film: Documentary (2004). Description from IMDb: “Navigating the transition from adolescence to adulthood is challenging for even the most mature and privileged youth. For three young people in New York and Los Angeles, making the transition to independent living is considerably more difficult as they "age out" of the foster care system and suddenly discover, for the first time, that they're on their own.”

Pose	LGBTQ+, Trans Representation & Awareness, AIDS, NY Ballroom Scene	TV Series: Drama (2018-2021). Show description from FX: “Pose is a drama spotlighting the legends, icons and ferocious house mothers of New York’s underground ball culture, a movement that first gained notice in the late 1980s. Making television history, Pose features the largest cast of transgender actors in series regular roles...”
The Perks of Being a Wallflower	Depression, Anxiety, PTS, LGBTQ+, Sexual Abuse	Film: Drama (2012). Description from IMDb: “Based on the novel written by Stephen Chbosky, this is about 15-year-old Charlie (Logan Lerman), an endearing and naive outsider, coping with first love (Emma Watson), the suicide of his best friend, and his own mental illness while struggling to find a group of people with whom he belongs.”
Beautiful Boy	Substance Abuse, Family Dynamics, Depression	Film: Drama (2018). Description from Amazon: “Based on the best-selling pair of memoirs from father and son David and Nic Sheff, Beautiful Boy chronicles the heartbreaking and inspiring experience of survival, relapse and recovery in a family coping with addiction over many years.”
Short Term 12	Foster Care, Group Home Life, Mental Health	Film: Drama (2013). Description from IMDb: “At a foster-care facility for at-risk teenagers, Grace is a young counselor trying to do her best for kids who often have been pulled from the worst kinds of home situations. Even then, life is not easy as Grace and her colleagues care for kids who are too often profoundly scarred, even as they try to have lives of their own.”
Thin	Eating Disorders	Film: Documentary (2006). Description from HBO: “Eating disorders affect five million people in the U.S. This film documents some of the faces behind these numbers at Renfrew, a facility dedicated to helping women and girls overcome eating disorders. The result is a deeply affecting look at the struggles with eating and weight--and the deeper issues that lie at the core of women who are, literally, dying to be thin.”
I Have Tourette's But Tourette's Doesn't Have Me	Children Living With Tourette's Syndrome, Stigma Of Tourette's	Film: Short Documentary (2005). Description from HBO: “This insightful family documentary takes a candid look at the lives of more than a dozen American children who have Tourette Syndrome. The film explores what it is like for them, what measures they are taking to control it, and the challenges they face in their efforts to be accepted into the social mainstream as 'normal' kids.”
Three Identical Strangers	Adoption, Family Dynamics, Mental Health Issues, Nature vs. Nurture	Film: Documentary (2018). Description from IMDb: “In 1980 New York, three young men who were all adopted meet each other and find out they're triplets who were separated at birth. But their quest to find out why turns into a bizarre and sinister mystery.”

This Changes Everything	Gender Inequality in the Entertainment Industry & its effects on Culture	Film: Documentary (2019). Description from Netflix: "This documentary takes a deep look at gender disparity in Hollywood through the eyes of well-known actresses and female filmmakers."
Pray Away	LGBTQ+, Mental Health Effects of Conversion Therapy	Film: Documentary (2021). Description from Netflix: "Ex-leaders and a survivor of the so-called "conversion therapy" movement speak out about its harm to the LGBTQ+ community and its devastating persistence."
Not Carol	Postpartum Depression, Postpartum Psychosis	Film: Documentary (2020). Description from Starz: "On the morning of May 20, 2014, Carol Coronado--in the midst of a psychotic postpartum breakdown--murdered her three young children and is serving three life sentences. This is her story."
A Dangerous Son	Mental Illness, Parenting, Stigma of Mental Illness	Film: Documentary (2008). Description from HBO: "One in 10 American children suffers from serious emotional disturbance and more than 17 million have experienced a psychiatric disorder. A Dangerous Son focuses primarily on three families in crisis, each struggling with a child's severe mental illness, desperately seeking treatment in the face of limited resources and support."
The Florida Project	Poverty, Parenting, Childhood	Film: Drama (2017). Description from film website: "Warm, winning, and gloriously alive, Sean Baker's The Florida Project is a deeply moving and unforgettably poignant look at childhood."
Moonlight	BLM, LGBTQ+, Substance Abuse, Childhood, Bullying	Film: Drama (2016). Description from film website: "A timeless story of human connection and self-discovery, Moonlight chronicles the life of a young black man from childhood to adulthood as he struggles to find his place in the world while growing up in a rough neighborhood of Miami. At once a vital portrait of contemporary African-American life and an intensely personal and poetic meditation on identity, family, friendship, and love, Moonlight is a groundbreaking piece of cinema that reverberates with deep compassion and universal truths."
