NLP Training Design

NLP Awareness Center

We have designed programs to train participants to take advantage of the wonderful NLP technology. Our programs teach how to build rapport, to read eye movements, to use specific language patterns, and to use new strategies for assisting others.

Our programs are designed as a series of workshops. At each workshop participants are taught new skills, which they practice in small groups. The participants have a week or two between each workshop to allow them time to practice and master the skills. Each workshop is used as a foundation for the next.

Participants will learn how to assist others more effectively because they will be working at a much deeper level.

These programs can be customized to meet your needs and I will be very happy to discuss them in greater detail.
