About the Project

This is a 28,000 SF launcher equipment processing facility for the US Navy - the Launcher Processing Building (17,200 SF) with concrete foundation and walls and a roof structure of steel-joint with insulated standing-seam metal panels. It will include high-bay equipment processing areas, inert equipment storage, a test area and personnel support spaces; and two reinforced concrete weapons-related materials storage facilities (10,900 SF). Each will include a mechanical room and a storage space. Built-in equipment includes a pre-fabricated paint booth, pre-fabricated sandblast booth, and bridge cranes. High performance and sustainable building requirements apply. Site preparations include building demo, clearing, grubbing and logging, site cut and haul, and grading. There is work related to asphalt paving, concrete paving, curbs and sidewalks, bollards, landscaping, fences and gates. Environmental mitigation includes habitat protection, biological and archeological monitoring and protection of tribal trust resources and assets.
