In no way does this story depict any factual actions or thoughts by any one person.

Nor does this story intend to profile any one religion or group of people.

REMEMBER:

Timothy McVeigh is a white/Caucasian ex American Marine. Blond hair and blue eyes.

And, is one of Americas worst terrorists.

I hope I made my point.

Trash knows no boundaries. There is good and evil where ever there is mankind.

This book is fiction. This book could very easily become Non-Fiction.

This story begins to unfold on January 5th,

NOTE: Usama bin Mohammed laden Awad was born March 10th, 1957. Imagine that little bastard of a brat screaming already). In the Cold War period after World War II a United States foreign policy pronouncement by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Eisenhower Doctrine, promised military and/or economic aid to any Middle Eastern Country needing help in resisting Communist aggression. The doctrine was intended to check increased Soviet influence in the “Middle East”. This influence resulted in the supply of arms to Egypt by Communist Countries. In addition, there was rising tension produced by recent Diplomatic bribes by Russia in the Middle East. The same year Russia had just completed the successful launching of “Sputnik”, the first earth orbiting satellite. Beginning the space age.

It also resulted in strong Communist support of Arab States against an Israeli, French, British and American attack on Egypt in October 1956. Iraq, being one of those States.

Eisenhower proclaimed, with the approval of Congress, that he would use the armed forces to protect the independence of any Middle Eastern Country seeking American help. (All they had to do was to raise their hands.) America will now take the leading role in supplying military and or economic aid to those Middle Eastern Countries who want to thwart off Russian aggression and/or any Middle Eastern country that supports such aggression.

“LOTTERY” will take you to a chilling end that spans over 6 decades of Hatred-Revenge-Patriotism- War & Love-Murder-Suicide-Marriage Divorce-Illicit Affairs-Character Assassination-Money Laundering-Deceit-Fair Weather Friends-Lies and Truths, even among family & loved ones. And, what you are reading could become a reality and prove to be one of the biggest threats to The United States of America’s National Security.

Eisenhower Doctrine signing “1957”

The Eisenhower Doctrine Read:

Authorize the United States to co-operate and assist any nations or group of nations in the general area of the Middle East in the development of economic strength dedicated to the maintenance of National Independence.

Authorize the executive to undertake in the same region programs of military assistance and co-operation with any nation or group of nations which desire such aid.
Authorize such assistance and cooperation to include the employment of armed forces of the United States to secure and protect the territorial integrity and political independence of such Nations requesting such aid against overt armed aggression from any nation controlled by international Communist.

The Eisenhower Doctrine, for the first time, drew lines between American Allies and American enemies in the Middle East, Below, the stark contrast of Iraq from ally in 1957 to enemy in 1958.

Before and after the signing on the Eisenhower Doctrine.
“1957”/”1958”

As this Doctrine spreads thru the Middle East, which lies at the center of our earth, and, at it's very heart, (Iraq) the United States will become the EVIL EMPIRE and must be destroyed. Iraq, which is nestled between the 2 great rivers, Tigris and Euphrates, with shipping lanes going from the Persian Gulf to the Indian Ocean to Basra, is where the first codes of justice were laid down with in the walls of Babylon. Iraq will take a major role that will have you experience a mind blowing climatic event that will put you in a state of reality. Iraq is now, for the first time a legitimate enemy of the United States of America. Iraq is thrust into a non-ally relationship with the U.S.A., Russia begins to offer their support to Iraq. Iraq did not raise their hands. Iraq will be changing its colors and allegiance with the United States like everyone changes socks during the next 60 years. which you will travel thru up to the present date.

The news of the Eisenhower doctrine around areas of Iraq is read in some almost barbaric antiquated ways. No matter where the message went or how it was read, it always said the same thing, "The United States is an evil empire".

The reaction is swift, and as real soldiers do, put up their armor and their defense.

In this case, they smell blood, it's in their make-up. They are okay with cutting something off.

We take our selves into a middle class Iraqi farm house, and the lives of the renaissance of the characters and the roll they will play in achieving their goal of destruction of any size of The United States of America.

Our story begins.

We are in a 2-story farm house. The residents are somewhat well-to-do, the rugs alone take your breath away. The Patriarch Abdullah, addresses his progeny in the kitchen. You see and hear him yelling with rage at his youngest grandchildren, six-year-old Amirmoez and eight-year-old Darzi. "You will move to the United States and your mission will be to live and take as many generations of our family necessary to destroy the United States of America and the evil vile of their ways". As the elder's family, including his two sons, Aban, husband of Amira (She is the pretty one and has an ax to grind with America. Only to make herself look better).

And, is due to deliver a baby boy in the months to come. Their baby boy will be named Tawfeek. You hear and see her clapping and saying "Yes, Yes, Yes"! She will patronize for her own benefit and wants her husband to be the grand poo-pa. She will be seen over the next four decades in time taking control as she is by far the most "Western cultured" female in their family. And, Hakim, husband of Abida. (Abida is the name of both boys & girls) listen. They are hooting and hollering in joy and approval. Everyone except Gabir 58, The family Matriarch. She will not look at Abdullah, her back to him and facing the East. Toward Mecca. You can hear her soft voice in prayer. "Oh, you who I believe, I see patience and perseverance. For you God. Are with those who patiently persevere." Abdullah has gathered several extended family members and friends to hear his orders. As we begin to familiarize with this family, we see they have the money to pull this off and get a good start.

Abdullah throws out his last orders. "You must learn the English language". Instructing the wives to learn the language as well. But, convince every American they meet they only speak Arabic. To become flies in the enemy's ointment. The ointment intended to spoil the otherwise civilized way of life in America.

During this same period, Eisenhower's plate is full of other homeland distractions. And, Americans themselves are wrestling to keep that life of civilization secure. September 24th the "Little Rock Nine" integrate Arkansas High School message. Eisenhower sends troops to quell the violent mobs and protect the students after Governor Orval Faubus defies Federal Orders by refusing to allow black Americans in the school.

The average American is ignorant to the tension and building of military aggression that has been blossoming at a rapid rate in the Middle East. On the flip side, America is transfixed on the Broadway debut of Lenard Bernstein West Side Story. Which it's production was one of the first to bring violence to the stage.

We take you back to Iraq and watch as the next few years go by and grasp the relentless effort by all to learn the new language. And, Amira delivers a healthy boy, Tawfeek.

This family are farmers. Living in the town of Hilla, which lies on the Euphrates, raising wheat, barley, sunflower and sugar beets. It is a very physical and healthy productive way of life both in Iraq and The United States. Amira and Abido are being 100% housewives while Amirmoes and Darzi attend school. The little one Tawfeek is home with mom. You can smell the coriander and cress, lentils and courgetti in the air as the wives prepare for their husbands and their attending school children to return home to their farmhouse.

There are three classes of Iraqis. City Man, No Man and peasant farmers, which comprise of nearly $\frac{3}{4}$ of Iraq's population Today, Hilla it is home to the University of Babylon.

Back on the farm, as the language sessions continue, the family recruits a tutor/translator named Zaid. He is in his young 20's and very good looking. And, just the right amount of personality. And that doesn't please Aban. Aban is insecure and fills the void with jealousy. It's in the air but everything remains functional. Zaid is a young scholar who loves the English language. We see the language lessons gruelingly move on. The elders become frustrated. Aban directs his frustration at Zaid. He yells in disgust and disbelief. "2, too, 2, two, 2, to" Then "farm f-a r-m, Pharmacy, p-h-a-r". That is when Zaid turns to the children and politely asks them to explain to the adults the structure of this very difficult language. That's when Darzi, who is now 9 years old looks at his father Hakim and says, without any hesitation, "T-O is a preposition which begins a prepositional phrase or an infinitive".

"T-O-O is an adverb excessively or also. T-W-O is a number".

Darzi continues. The Romans translated Greek "PH" and pronounced closer to "f".

Zaid, becomes aware that the children are learning at a much faster pace than the elders.

(The children, still ignorant to why they are learning their new language).

Eventually Zaid has the young tutoring the Elders.

Queema, a minced meat, is being served for one of their weekly dinners dedicated to studying the English language. We will find them sitting around the floor, out in the back yard, the family room, anywhere they are most comfortable.

We watch as their lives become more and more obscure among their own people. In this case, Unclear-Uncertain-Unknown-Hazy-Vague-Concealed-Hidden-Vailed-Masked.

Kind of like, “The Fifth Column”

(Meaning of “The 5th Column” Traitor-One who betrays a country, Friend and/or Principle. Sellout for their own gain-Wendel-Any group of people who undermined a larger group from within in favor of the enemy, group or nation.)

1960

Late 1960 Aban & Hakim move to America themselves for a 1-month period. They begin their plan to transition themselves and their families into their new life.

After much diligent and painstaking paper work, Aban and Hakim finely have their work visa's and all other paper work complete. At present, The United States has strict restrictions on travel and immigration.

They travel to America. After landing at the Philadelphia International Airport, they meet with fellow Iraqi named Ajam in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania area. "Ajam, an attorney who has been living in America for nearly a decade and has taken a (Pro Bono roll) in assisting Iraqi families thru the transition of moving to America. Ajam is obscure and unaware of their mission. Aban asks "How is the steel mill employment opportunities? We have decided to move our families to America, Ajam replies "The northeastern and western parts of Pennsylvania are ripe with employment opportunities. I have connections with people here in the northeast who are presently looking for hard workers. And, the work is hard. But it pays well and is secure. Good insurance and benefits with a good pension to boot."

Aban replies, “We are ready and eager. We will be here for nearly a month and our goal is to return home with secure employment and hopefully good housing.” Ajam arranges for both Aban and Hakim to have a job interview in the Steelton, Pennsylvania area. They arrive at the steel mill and immediately impress the personal department. They both are willing to work any of the three full-time shifts and prove they have the strength and the ability to lift and learn. They are hired. Aban looks at his brother and exclaims, “We accomplished that goal in such short time, we must look for housing.” With the help of Ajam and steel mill personnel they find a nice 4-bedroom row home in a small community in walking distance to the steel mill. Everyone they meet seemingly embrace the idea of having them as new neighbors including school officials at the local Catholic Parish. The Pastor, Father Michael, who has a reputation of being ahead of the times, sees this as an opportunity to help his parishioners to understand and blossom regarding the world’s religious stage. Yes, Father Michael is without a doubt ahead of the times. “There is a place with in our community” Their trip has been a success beyond their own tortured minds could imagine.

They return home to an anxious and proud family.

Upon their return, there are some reservations and concerns among the ever so calculating Family. Especially amongst the elders. Adbyllin is at odds on how they will live.

The discussions and debates include, the western style of life, the women wearing veils, Catholic schooling, eating habits and their own religious worship and the next generations worshipping just to name a few. Aban, with the authority of a Matriarch in training, speaks to the concerns.

“Our wives and daughters will wear veil cover during devotion and piety. And that veiling will be of their own choice. They will honor their religious identity and self-expression. There will be no influence. We have a mission, Just That. Our children will keep their faith. Our decision is to be a member and participate with in unified setting. We will change nothing regarding our religious culture. Fasting etc. Our family will attend one of two Mosques. One local and a grand Mosque in Washington D, C,”

The Families begin their Exodus to America!

After nearly 5 years of planning to leave Iraq, the children and their parents shuffle off to Philadelphia. Aban and Hakim will periodically return home to conduct business regarding their family and their mission.

The family leaves quietly. The Family arrives quietly.

They are squeaky clean do to the fact, when they arrived in the early 60's, the only profiling that was going on, was if you were black.

They settle in a community that is a Hard-working beer drinking steel mill community. They have found work in the steel mill with hopes to eventually return to farming. Aban will always believe he is in charge and wants to be the patriarch over here in the United States. Remember, he has only one son, which is to his advantage, and he is the eldest. Family squabbles take place because of the power to make final decisions arise repeatedly. It is less important to identify these squabbles as it is to remember there is Aban, who wants, and will become the next patriarch. It's just a preview.

There are little to no social ills in this tight knit community. (It's a good climate) Slovak-American, Catholic culture. Their children attend a small Catholic School two blocks from their home and one block to the Steel foundry. As traditional in the 60's and 70's, this community had 4 small grade schools with in a 30-mile radius. Saint Patrick's, Saint Mary's, Saint Joseph's and Saint Gertrude's where Aban's son Tawfeek and Hakim's sons Amirmoez and Darzi will attend. We witness thru the next generation a national trend. Catholic Diocese's began to consolidate and reduce the numbers of grade schools. While the families begin to settle in, they do everything humanly possible to become just another neighbor with no drama. Ironically, this small knit community is witnessing a drama of their own. Which in turn has over shadowed their place in the community. An illicit affair has engulfed the close-knit Catholic parish. We watch as this parish welcome their newest member, A newly born little girl named Beth is born September 12th, 1962 She is black. Mom and Dad are not. Even with that. There is not a negative eye or action from anyone. This parish and community stand tall when it comes to "Love thy neighbor" Yes, there will be taunting in grade school as there always will be. But not so much for both Aban and Hamik's children and their Iraqi heritage, but for Beth. We must remember, during these times the United States is embroiled in the Civil Rights movement. Focusing on race and woman's rights, and again, the only profiling was race. Not religion or culture. Civil Rights marches were at their peak and riots were at their worst. And, Martin Luther King was still alive.

While willfully and as misleading as it may be, and, not missing a step, Aban and Hakims families attend Communion parties, confirmations, etc.

At one event, Father Michael approaches Amira, Aban’s wife, who is now 34 years old and Abido, Hakim’s wife, who is now 32 years old, and graciously invites them to help with the making of the, fasnacht, which is a traditional feast before the Catholics Church observance of “40 days and nights of fasting.” As he attempts to (with hand motions) describe the making of them, including strudel, nut rolls and Kibosh. The two women, (while understanding every word he says) express their somewhat limited understanding. Hakim translates and with a good white washing explains, “Amira and Abido do not speak English”.

There will be festivals, carnivals and Christmas bazaars.

The men will frequent the locally owned corner bars as the children will frequent the mom and pop corner stores to buy penny candy, bread, milk, butter some eggs for the wives to make meals and the neighborhood playgrounds.

During their first Christmas bazaar, Amira and Abido wore veils. Father Michael directed two nuns wearing “High” nun habits join them at the table to work with them side by side. The message was clear, we are all children of God. As the three days of heating the un-pasteurized milk to its absolute correct temperature using their fingertips, they add the butter, yeast, sugar, flour, eggs and lemon zest. They let the dough raise, cut them, sugared them and then boxed the finished, fasnachts. Aban and Abida began to share their own tastes of Iraq with the same ingredients. Aban, who was everywhere, began intriguing and fascinating within the Catholic community with a religion of their own. There seems to be a mutual respect for each other's faith.

Aban and Hakims families will worship during "Eid Al Fitr" the end of Ramadan on June 25th, the festival of fast breaking. They celebrate "Eid Al Adha" Feast of Sacrifice and "Mawlid al-Nabi" when the lunar cycle deems necessary at a Mosque located in the Harrisburg area. This Mosque was founded in 1888. The U.S.A. Chapter was established in 1952. That is also the year Abida falls in love with Norman Rockwell. She began her collection with the little one's at the doctors and the Barber shop.

Authors Note:

Don't be fooled by what everyone may perceive as examples of their genuine gratification and or loving it so much to be here in the US.

When it comes to getting the mission done, this family will deliver an Oscar winning performance.

They don't forget January 5th 1957-EVER

May 15th Patriarch Abdulla Dies.

Only Aban goes home to Iraq for a week. While there, he mourns the loss of his father. He speaks with comrades of the mission. And he emphasizes it's only been a few years. He reminds them and says, "Our mission has no deadline. Our patience has allowed us to fit in. The money is good. The work is hard. We have made a lot of progress in a short period of time." He considers the money that has been sent home to Iraq, and adds, "The money laundering is working", But the amounts must pick up a step. This visit was short.

November 22nd Gabir, the family matriarch dies. The family mourns her in the U.S. As in most customs, here in the US, the neighbors bring their condolences along with cakes, macaroni and cheese, breads, spreads, quiche, etc. The mood is solemn and the neighbors, under the assumption Amira and Abido do not speak English, make their point by placing their hands in a prayer position, they bow in condolence, they even held their hands. Losing your own has no boundaries.

The money being laundered has been all but matched by Patriots living in Iraq, big dreams and a mission that has no deadline. News about fertilizer/manure is making headlines as one of the newest terroristic tool. There was no Ammonium Nitrate in 1964, which is a cheap substance routinely used decades later to be the explosions flint, creating the most powerful explosion. Currently the recipe is all natural and it has grabbed Aban's keen interest. Although this explosive is not widely used yet and/or not taken seriously, IT WORKS, and Aban knows it. Before returning to the United States, they spend two weeks experimenting with the mixtures on their farm in Iraq.

Upon their return, to their delight, the news that was capturing the country's and the world's attention was about to take place.

The Seminal Immigration and Nationality Act of 1965 is signed into law by President Lyndon B. Johnson at the foot of the Statue of Liberty. Before 1965 many Arab immigrants that immigrated to the United States were members of the established elite in countries like Egypt, Syria and “Iraq”. The 1965 immigration and Nationality Act reform allowed a new wave of Arab States to immigrate. These reforms opened doors and put on the fast track the opportunities needed for Aban and Hakeems families to obtain legal and permanent resident status in the United States. They took advantage of the opportunity and obtained legal permanent residency in the United States in the next few years. It also opened the doors to recruitment of future martyrs.

These terrorists will experience the downfall of the steel industry and lose their job just like everyone else in their community and they fit right in. The difference lies in their next move, most proud men living within the community are suddenly broke and without income. Social ills become abundant. Before the exodus of the steel mills across the North Eastern United States, thousands of these men went to local bars in the morning after work. Now it's when they get out of bed. The social ills include vulnerability, irresponsibility, abuse, alcoholism, divorce and more. And no jobs to boot. This is when you'd think the family from Iraq would become part of those social ills that go along with what has taken such a terrible toll on these entire families. Not them. They have a mission with no deadline. They are patient.

Aban, now 43 as is his wife Amira, Hakeem and son Tawfeek now 13 years old, Hakeem, now 40 as is his wife Abido, their sons Amirmoez, now 20, and brother Darzi 22 years old, pull up roots in a fashion that make it seem they were never there. “Mission obedience”

They begin their plan to move back to farm living and have themselves become ambiguous and obscure. It’s a long process. Both Aban and Hamik are “Together” personally applying for farm hand positions. We don’t have to remind you they are better ready because of their own antiquated equipment back home in Iraq. The kind you feed.

Between their farming experience and will to work, they have no problem landing a job at the farm of their choice with generic housing for the brood and a small airport close by to boot. During this time, in the early 70's there were hundreds of small airports scattered around the U.S. Anywhere from one to two or as many as 15 to 25 planes calling it home.

The farm is owned by honest, Godfearing, old school values type of family. A father of three, his name is Jake, who is 30 years of age and is married to wife, Amelia who is 31.

They are proud parents of, son Mark who is one, daughter Anna who is two, and son John who is three years old. This is not an Amish family, but nestled in an Amish community. The Iraqi family fits right in. There are mostly neighboring farms that are owned and operated by Amish families who are also their friends. The farm produces corn, barley and have several hundred-live stocks. Cows, pigs and a small chicken production. Because of their "New" life on this picturesque farm, there is a heart to be broken. Tawfeek now 13 years old and Beth who is 8 have become inseparable during the past two years. He vows to stay in touch. He once told her their friendship defies gravity.

Aban decides to, while working full time on the farm, to land a part time job. YES! At the local St. Petersburg Airport. Another piece of the mission's puzzle. He is hired as maintenance. During this period, most of these airports had grass runways. This one is in bad shape. He's hired to maintain the runway while splitting his time between the farm and airport. After six months of leveling, weeding, seeding, watering and maintaining it, Aban turned the runway into his own dream runway. The owner takes notice. Aban waters in the middle of the night and puts in hundreds of unpaid hours. He gets the job done.

The airport owner is very impressed. And as a perk, Aban receives free flying lessons. One of the first employees he meets at the St. Petersburg Airport is Wendel Bowman. (Wendel is a 5th column) Wendel was blatantly clear from the get go. He is against the establishment, his bosses, local, State and Federal Government, his wife and his whole life in general. He feels he got the short end of the stick, people owe him and he is a bully. It's obvious this character is gullible, uneducated but pretty much what Aban needs to build a coalition between them. And we're not talking about watching football. Pretty much of what Aban needs to build, is a manipulating coalition to use this guy to help himself to become more a part of the airport from top to bottom. Wendel is just 21 years old, unhappily married with three children and one on the way. Wendel will become a force for their mission as the years go by. He is a piece of shit that will sell his soul and or Country for money, another piece of the mission's puzzle for decades to come. It's evident Wendall holds a grudge. He will never forget and always reminds everyone how he was taunted ever since grade school with everyone calling him Wendy. Even today you hear him say, "Wendy Bowman, Wendy Bowman, Wendy Bowman. I will never get over that".

Hakim, like his brother Aban, while working full time on the farm, also landed a part time job with one of the largest produce trucking companies in the state. Yes, another piece.

Tawfeek is now 14 years old and entering high School. He has been casually keeping in constant contact with Beth who is now nine years old with no one's knowledge.

The men, now both having two jobs, are out working more than they are home.

Tony Abdullah is now five and well behaved. He looks up to Tawfeek as a big brother.

Amira and Abido spend more time together, alone at home. They talk about the possibility of their final days here in the United States and whether they will still be alive if the mission is complete in their life time. Amira, the antagonist, rival adversary and opponent asks Abido, "Do you even want to be alive when the mission is complete?" Abido responds, "That's hard to answer. We've given as a country, but lose as a family." Amira scolds her, "Our family gains. Have you no honor for our martyrs?" Abido looks at Amira, straight in both eyes, turns around and walks out of the room. Later that day, we find them sitting across from each other in the kitchen holding hands and quietly weeping. A rare moment for Amira because she always considered those action as weak.

The families plan, in the event this mission does come to fruition in their life time, is for both Amira, Abido and the children to be back home safely in Iraq weeks before any of the first explosions. It is clear and expected, this mission has no deadline. The children to date have been kept naive to the mission. Although Tawfeek has seen red flags indicating there is something unknown. He is not ready to question anything. The children are told to wait and marry a woman of the Muslim faith. Once they return home. They will never return to the U.S.

We start to see Amira begin to take control. Even though it's not known if she will return home. She is hellbent to be the queen if she does. PERIOD! She is seen and heard deciding what responsibilities the woman have. And it's clear she is not the cook or maid! Abido, who has always been lower key and restrained, genuinely embraces the role of "Not being in charge"

*A 15-year treaty of friendship and cooperation is signed between Iraq and the Soviet Union. *A stark reminder of the Eisenhower Doctrine.

*The Supreme Court rules the death penalty is unconstitutional.

*Movie “The God Father”

Early January will mark the second visit for both Aban and Hamik to return to Iraq together. While home is another update on the money accumulated for the mission including the amounts that have been sent home to Iraq and the matching funds by Iraqi loyalists. The men update them on the use of manure in explosions. They will always update on the family and their accomplishments.

Abans son Tawfeek is now 15. And still in love with Beth! Hakim's son Amirmoez is now 22 and Darzi is 24. Their new son Tony is only five years old.

Aban and Hakim intensify their manure exploding experiments on their farm in Iraq. They also meet three young future martyrs who will take part serving the mission and will be arriving in the United States within the next year. Their names are Asera, Malik and Rahim. All in their mid to late teens. While home in Iraq, they will all speak freely of the mission. Aban and Hamik fill them in. The three wear their country well and proudly offers their lives as homage.

Back in the United State, Tawfeek, now 15, is getting to know his cousins 21-year-old Amirmoes and 23-year-old Darzi. Darzi told Tawfeek about the few insults hurled their way because of their heritage in the grade school playground when they were younger and asked Tawfeek “Do you have many friends? Tawfeek said “I am friends with everyone. Especially Beth” who is now 10 years old. Then Tawfeek said, “I heard someone call Beth a nigger”. Darzi asked Tawfeek, “what did you do?” Tawfeek said, “I told her I liked her. I didn’t care if she was a nigger”, Beth said, “Thank you. Do you know what that word nigger means”? I said, “kind of.” Then Beth looked at me with a few tears rolling down her cheeks, looked me straight in my eyes and said, “It’s ignorance my mother told me. It is just that. And, you must understand that; they don’t know what their saying. That’s what they hear at their dinner table. But the word “Nigger” does fly around at times.” And it always’ hurts”. Darzi asked Tawfeek, “what did you say?” Tawfeek said, “nothing, I hugged her.”

When the two men return to the United States they are accompanied by 18-year-old Shada for one of his sons to marry.

Aban & Hakim will embark on a major project creating small scale explosions on the farm’s outskirts in Pennsylvania. Aban and Hakim both work on a farm that directly manufactures manure. To have an explosion is not difficult, but the process would be very uncommon and would raise red flags and be questioned. He has as much feces as he needs. They create these small explosions naturally by placing the feces in a manure pit. Up to 90% smaller than the farm operated ones. They will be small and hidden on the hundreds of farm acres. Then capping it air tight to prevent the odor to abscond. At present, to the best of his knowledge, it was the odor alone that built up the explosive result. As the years move on he will be educated about methane, which is the natural flint to a type of explosion.

The first of three additional Doomsday Patriots Aban and Hakim met while in Iraq in 1972, Aasera 21, Malik 21, and Rahim 22 arrive and settle in Indiana. All of them get warehouse jobs; driving trucks, loading trucks and unloading trucks. (Learning the trucking ropes if you want to call it that). No wives, no children planned. They know they will die on Doomsday and beam with pride inside knowing their lives are secondary to the mission and their Country. They call themselves Martyrs. They will also obtain their pilots license in the coming years.

There is very little if no contact between any participants in Doomsday who reside in the United States. All contact is directly with a communication wheel located in Iraq. The wheel (Iraqi patriots) keep everyone in the loop. The rule being not to communicate or acknowledge the existence of fellow cohorts or comrades within the United States. The wheel always communicates directly from family member to family member to avoid any assumption of association by the United States Government. This wheel has been in operation prior to 1957.

Tony is now 10. He is having a rough time at school. He has become detached from his family and seems to be in a world of insecurity. He seems to have gender bending body language, not expected or accepted by both Abans and Hakims families. Tawfeek is the only family member who reaches out and tries to comfort Tony and encourages him to have more confidence in himself.

Tawfeek now 22 years old, is still hellbent in love with Beth who is now 17. They have been seeing each other without anyone’s knowledge ever since Tawfeek received his driver’s license.

The last year or so they have become romantically involved and rendezvous when they can. Usually at one of their most popular pass times, the Drive-in movie. Beth becomes pregnant. This was defiantly not in the plan. Aban tells his son Tawfeek. “There is no discussion. There is no choice. Your baby’s blood is family blood. And there is no exception. The only exception is that Beth is Black and beautiful, inside and out.” Beth moves in with Tawfeek and family. They wed on July 30th. Tony Abdulla, son of Hakim is almost 14. Rumor has it he is gay. He is found hung in the barn. They called it suicide by hanging. Rumor has it he was left hanging for 5 minutes before he was taken down. Tawfeek is heartbroken. He and Beth both fear this was an "Honor Killing" The killing of a relative perceived to have brought dishonor on the family. Their son Ali Jared will never know Tony Abdulla.

ARA News 01/26/17 7:44 P.M. EST

The militants called on the people to stone him.

“The Quran Specifically prohibits the killing of innocent people”

This is the year Hakim and Aban decide to sit down and take inventory.

They discuss the roles of Aasera, now 27, Malik, 27, and Raham, 29, who reside in Indiana. The dependency of Jamal who is now 6, Yusof (6), Reheem (7) and Uda, who is 8 in the event the mission is not complete in their life time.

They discuss the updated information sent through the wheel regarding the Indiana Patriots and their working experiences and success in obtaining their pilot licenses.

They envision trucks and planes, creating an apocalypse. But they realize it is going to take a hell of a lot more money than they saved and sent back home to Iraq. They remain residual and confident because this mission has no deadline.

They agree sometime in the future it might be necessary to meet their fellow patriots face-to-face, including their own sons and having them make a choice as to what role they want to play in the "Mission" if any.

August 13th, 1981. Now that inventory has been taken, Aban and Hakim and family's sit down to what is what they all have been waiting for and know has been earned. A peaceful meal with no mission talk. An evening with no out-side interference. A rare and priceless moment. The moment does not last long. Abido, who is always soft spoken and comfortable not to be heard, catches the entire family by shock." I am ashamed of Iraq" She says. "We all know we are using chemical weapons against our neighbors" There is a short silence when Amira demands an apology for Abido being blasphemy. Abido quietly excuses herself from the table and leaves the room. The room remains quit and somber. They all know Abido is correct. They all know it is wrong. And, they all know it could be their baby's.

While at the same time arming Iran. Aban and Hakim are not impressed with the support Iraq is receiving from The United States. They know Americas underlined agenda and why they have intervened. Both Aban and Hakim are very well-schooled on a regular basis on the current state of the Iran-Iraq war. In many cases sometimes more than The United States Government. The Iraqi wheels informational source is priceless intelligence. The bottom line, The United States has been arming both sides in its desire to see neither side dominate the vital resource of the oil rich regions. In the next coming years, Aban and Hakim will be proven right by the American Courts. And there will be no love lost. This family This family lives like its 1957 every day. There is no trust and there never will be. According to Aban, America does not give handouts with out a price. And that price is greed! This, resulting in fuel being added to their mission.

Iraq begins to obtain much of its anthrax supply from the American type culture collection. Between 1985 and 1989, it obtained at least 21 strains of anthrax from ATCC and about 15 other class III pathogens, the exact bacteria that pose extreme risk to human health.

These occurrences are heard loud with in the cells of the Iraqi terrorist world including the wheel, in turn, Aban and Mallik. Also in 1985 Rihab Taha al Azawi (born November 12, 1957), an Iraqi microbiologist, who will later be dubbed Dr. Germ by the United Nations weapons inspectors, went to work for Iraqs germ warfare program. She later will become chief production officer of in al-Hakam., Iraqs top-secret biological-warfare facility at the time. Taha will become a household word in the world of terrorists and later marry British educated General Dr. Amir Mohammad Rashid al Ubaidi, the former Iraqi oil minister and director of Iraqi's Military Industrials Cooperation. She will then be known as Dr. Rihab Rashid Taha al Azawi.

April 9th, Amirmoes, now 35, son of Hamik gets married to Shada now 32. The bride's Mother, Father and her 2 sisters will travel from Iraq for the event. Shada's mother's name is Sanaa. Her father' name is Jamail. The elder sister's name is Shatha while her younger sisters name is Leyla. Leyla is 7 years old. Ali Jared and Leyla will take part in the wedding. Shada and her family will be staying at Aban's house because Shada is marrying Hakim's son. Their wedding will have all the tradition expected in your Iraqi wedding, which is an event, not celebrated quietly like Tawfeek and Beth's wedding. But with glory and distinction. This marriage even has the old-school tradition of being arranged by the parents.

At the local Mosque, there will be traditional drums to announce their engagement. Those gathered at the announcement are called, "The Assembly for the Queenly Bride". Their wedding will be held at the Grand Mosque in Washington D.C. The U.S.A Chapter was established in 1922 and is among the oldest American-Muslim organizations. Located a few blocks from the White House and nestled with surrounding Embassy's and is the first Mosque in the Nation's Capital. They both will wear white with garland around their necks. The groom's family will express their desire for the union. We will see them visit the bride's home. They arrive to see Aban is cutting the hair of more than several male family members. Everyone will be looking their best. They will take gold coins, mirror and candelabras. The reception is lavish as will be the meal. The party is called paghosah. Special soup called ash will be made by the bride's mother along with whiskey, beer and vodka.

Eight years after America supplying Iraq with highly classified military intelligence and the sale of American made arms, there is a complete turnaround. America is now imposing sanctions on Iraq in retaliation for invading Kuwait. It was America who led the 34 Nations to an intensive bombing campaign against strategic Iraqi locations. Aban, as do his fellow Iraqi's, have been hoping that Iraq would gain a significant bargaining power as the Gatekeeper of the Middle East oil. President George Bush

This morning we accomplished our goal and received confirmation from the Iraqi officials to back down from their effort to refuse inspection of military records held in the Iraqi Agricultural Ministry Buildings. “Iraqi’s belated announcement that it will

It's June and the children are on their summer break. The entire family travels back home

To Iraq together for the first time. This is the first time Amira (66) and Abido (64) see their love ones since 1960. Although they have been in contact in the beginning from the day they left Iraq. They will be home during the end of Ramadan. The food cuisine includes both woman's favorites including cabals, (any kind almost) Abidos favorite and on the menu, starts with a grilled whole lamb stuffed with rice, almonds, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, cumin, coriander and paprika. Abido and Amira share some American dishes they brought with them much to the dismay of the village idiots. While shopping with their old friends they hear no English for the first time in 34 years. Aban and Hakim are both in their mid-60's. Aban Has carefully lived his life in preparation to become head of the family.

He and Hakim have schooled themselves by now to produce, deliver and implode a manure bomb. They in detail discuss details with Iraqi patriots while paying tribute to all martyrs, past, present and still to arrive. Aban and Hakim are told the Indiana comrades Aasera (42), Malik (42) and Raheem (44) jobs are going well but they miss home. Back here in Iraq, it is clear through communications that they are frustrated. This has not been an easy year for them. This year almost brought, for the first time, a collapse of the mission. Apparently the three living in Indiana were overheard discussing matters of the mission by two fellow employees. The red flags went flying. After a federal investigation, the three men were cleared". Lead investigator Frank Gage 28, was in complete disbelief. He felt the investigative team consisted of some who abused the real meaning of first amendment rights. Accused some of them as over the top with dangerous liberal ideals who treated these three suspects with kid gloves. The investigating team turned their head to lead investigator Gage's concerns of their secluded life styles with no spouse or significant other, their application for their pilot license, and their completion of the course all simultaneously. Boom, Boom, Boom. The fact that all three have been cited by their own trucking company (one of the largest in the State of Indiana) for habitual violations for keeping company trucks over the weekends. But most importantly, their reluctance to come clean when investigated. And, their stories didn't match. But...They were cleared! They have a strong will as comrades and are sadly enough, aware of the fact that there is no turning back. In the coming years, they will completely accept their mission and become resigned to the facts. There still has not been face to face contact with anyone in the United States other than themselves. They are dependent on each other and the Wheel.

While in Boston, Jamel is 29, Yusof is 34, Raheem is 35 and Uda is 36. All four works in the capacity of warehouse loading and trucking and are always winning employee of the month and other accolades.

Mother and father are still alive, retired and keeping house. Jamal still lives at home with his parents. Yusof and Raheem share an apartment. Uda is on his own in an upscale high rise. He has been known to be impressed with the Boston elite. He's even been accused of becoming too liberal by his brothers.

In Iraq, being too liberal and allowing western culture to consume parts of your life is problematic. Back home in Iraq, the communication wheel is just that. Remember, its old school. The wheel has been in existence long before 1957. Its operational responsibilities have been passed on from generation to generation. The wheel has always been operated by (Man Power) with only 20 or so close, loyal and committed martyrs. As in any operation like this comes the normal day to day drama. In this case, Amjad who is 25 years old and Bousaid, 27 find themselves somewhat a novelty amongst their fellow operators who are churning this informational wheel, younger, thinking they know it all and drip with western cultural aura. They aspire of becoming top operators of the wheel and open all the doors to unbridled jealousy and competition. They both show signs of disloyalty. Amjad and Bousaid are "Cut Throat"

Remember, cutting is their culture. No Problem.

And, these two morons are getting on everyone's nerves too boot.

That takes us back to this years most recent family trip back home to Iraq. It was decided with calculation, to have their values decimated, and then ordered to move to America. (Indiana Area)

as future Martyr resurgence. (NEW BIRTH)

It is a reality Aban and Hakim may not live until Doomsday

ABAN WILL WAIT

*150 million people watch as the not guilty verdict is read on the O.J. Simpson case.

Three years before the United Nations special commission weapons inspectors were forced to pull out of Iraq, Iraq admitted it had produced 2,000 gallons of anthrax. The UN destroyed most of that, but officials believe that Bagdad hid over 4 times as much as was discovered.

On April 19th, 1995, at 9:02 a manure packed truck exploded in front of the Alford P. Murrah Federal building in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, leaving 168 people dead and hundreds injured. Manure explosive comes to the forefront and Aban does not miss a detail. He enlists Hakim to begin to bring some trucks he is driving while at work to the farm as a proto type rehearsal. On & On. That's when ammonium nitrate comes into play. Remember, that is CHEAP. He continues to experiment with much success.

The Oklahoma horror caused an up-swing in profiling Middle Eastern nationalities. Even though Timothy McVeigh, who is a white Caucasian, American, blue eyed ex-Marine is responsible for executing the bombing.

The United States of America executed him.

*Mancha at the age of 44 dies of a heart attack. Condolences by Hakim's family were channeled through the Wheel as were the Indiana three. He was cremated and sent home.

The freshly ordered Amjad now 27 and Bousaid 29 land on American soil. While they settle in the Indiana area, they immediately set off alarms., They do not live a low-key life as all comrades have been living for this mission in America for the last 4 decades. They talk too much, their seen too much, provocative and both want to be big shots. But it's their dark side they transcend that has effortlessly been observed by others. Their social life does not last long. There is no knowledge of the location and or identities of any fellow comrades living in America

Then comes a major concern communicated thru the wheel to Aban and Hakim.

It has been confirmed Amjad and Bousaid are being investigated by the Federal Borough of Investigation.

They fueled their suspicion after making a few careless remarks while abbreviated at a local bar called the Papadopoulos.

This, just a few years after Asera, Malik and Raheem were innocent of any suspicion of terrorism. Amjad and Bousaid start living their lives more and more like the role of some dice.

January- The four brothers Jamal 33, Yusof 34, Raheem 35 and Uda 36 meet with Aban and Hakeem for the first time on American soil. The crew from Boston travel to the farm.

Their discussions were short and to the point and focused on the mission. They, for the first time, drew a draft of their targets. This included Washington, DC, the Lincoln and Holland Tunnel and nuclear power plants. And on their personal note, oil refineries. Regarding security concerns, we will see them all but disappear as the story unwinds.

February-Aasera 46, Malik 46 and Rahim 48 fly into the St. Petersburg Airport to meet with Aban and Hakim for the first time on American soil. All three hold a pilot's license. The meeting generally mirrored the one they had with their Boston patriots.

March-Aban and Hakim call together Tawfeek 45, son of Aban, and Darzi 50, sons of Hakim.

This meeting is obviously the hardest for Aban and Hakim. For the first time, they will come entirely clean regarding the mission. The explanation alone takes nearly an hour. The expressions and body language of each one is different. Neither show complete surprise. They have always treated the knowledge of what was taking place like a story book fantasy. But now it is real. Not just make believe. Tawfeek literally looks scared as hell. He is the only one that has a wife and child. Darzi already looks like a patriot. His shoulders back and a face that seems to have no emotion. Darzi has always been harder to read, but not now. Before even given a choice Tawfeek said he will not take a martyr's role. Tawfeek's fears of what really happened to Tony Abdullah separates him from any of this kind of life. Darzi gives Aban and Hakim a salute and is on board.

Aban and Hakim are now in a position where they will inform their wives of where the mission stands. Aban's side of the story is short. Their son Tawfeek will be returning home if the mission is complete while still alive. As will Amira. Hakim's story is much harder. He tells Abido Darzi is a comrade and joins the fight till death. Amira tries to show acceptance. She has never fully recovered from losing her son Tony to what was called suicide or her other beloved son Amirmoez to a drug overdose. Now, to hear her only son has pledged to die.

"And for what"! she yells

Hakim very softly lays his hand on her mouth and says,

"You were not heard" Period

She finally shows all the signs of defeat, she leaves the room making no sounds and closes the door quietly behind her.

According to a DIA report, the normally mild-mannered Rihab Taha was questioned about al-Hakam, Iraqis top secret biological-warfare facility. Taha exploded into violent rages. Shouting, screaming and storming out of the room, before returning and smashing a chair. Later, documents obtained by the United Nations principal weapons inspector Dr. Rod Barton showed Taha and the Iraqi regime had just purchased 10 tons of growth media from a British company called Oxoid. Iraqis hospital consumption of growth media was 200 kg a year, yet in 1988 Iraq imported more than 39 tons of it. Although this is wide spread talk in the terrorist's cells in Iraq, any chance of coming close to being any part of that world are impossible, unless you have Millions in cash to back up your terroristic plans. And with that, contact is easy.

This year a report commissioned by the Defense Intelligence Agency named Taha as the most dangerous woman in the world.

Dr. Rihab Rashida Taha ranks among the most important and new breed of third world weapon designers who were highly nationalistic, western-educated and willing to violate all international norms or scientific ethics. It was Taha who sold the idea of an Iraqi biological weapons program.

Movie Gladiator

Frank Gage who is now 34 and climbing the ladder in the F.B.I. investigative world. jumps on board the Amjad and Bousaid investigation. Lieutenant Gage still to this day, can't get rid of that lump in his stomach because of what he considered a sad cry of justice in the investigation reading involving brothers Aasera. Malik and Raheem. Gage takes his investigation to the front door of Amjad and Bousaid. There is no evidence shed of any connection with any mission.

Amjad and Bousaid agree to give Lieutenant Gage enough bullcrap intended to convince him they are willing to co-operate. The year is "2000" and Iraqi cells are everywhere. Including the FB.I. The message reaches the wheel. Amjad and Bousaid again show they have no "loyalty".

NOTE: The year "2000" was the year of the end. They said planes will crash. They Didn't.

The twin towers are attacked

The April 19th Alford P Murrah bombing became the 2nd worst terrorist attack on U.S. soil

Only second to the Twin Towers.

Anthrax attacks the United States of America following the September 11 attacks. Occurring over a period of several weeks beginning on September 18th. Letters containing anthrax spores were mailed to several news media offices and two Democratic US Senators, killing five people and infecting 17 others. The intelligence community focused on Iraq as the source of anthrax used in the bio-terroristic attacks in America.

One of the letters read:

Following the Twin tower attacks, experts at John Hopkins Center for Civilian Biodefense Strategies concluded that one of the nineteen 9/11 hijackers, Ahmed al-Haznawi had likely been exposed to anthrax. If the 9/11 hijackers were involved in the anthrax attacks, they would have had to have an accomplice to mail the tainted letters since the four recovered anthrax letters were postmarked on September 18th and October 9th. Not only was this information known to Aban and Hakim, but they also had knowledge, maybe not in full, of the 9/11 attack well before it took place. The communication wheel does not stop churning.

They will continuously update the players on the top most trusted Iraqi tentacles of terrorist's who reside in the U.S., including names and contact information.

This year will be the assumed last visit home to Iraq for Aban and Hakim while still alive. While there, reality begins to set in with the brothers that their mission will most likely come to fruition during the next generation

Aban explains with some regret the mission will most likely be completed within our next generation. He meets a new wave of seven young martyrs who have pledged their lives to complete the mission. Ahamed, Alfab and Alfars are in their young 20's. They have previously visited the United States, have pilot training under their belt and their Visa's in hand. Karimi, Zaman, Samara and Nejem are younger and will be taught and learn their duties and become part of the future. He explains with a smile on his face, "There will be little to no transition in your living quarters and/or your jobs. The farm jobs will be waiting with housing in place. Your transition in Indiana and Boston will be the same”. He takes them meticulously through the manure, trucks and pilot license instructions. He emphasizes, “There is an underestimation among the terrorist world as to the amount of damage manure can do if done correctly. This will not be an amateur job. WE ARE READY! All preparations have been made. Your mission is waiting for you”. This entire mission is without a doubt still under the radar with the exceptions of a few Federal investigations by the United States Government in 1994 which ended up leaving all suspected squeaky clean.

The discussion of anthrax always is in the conversation. They have all followed closely the progress, over the last few decades. They have ample anthrax contact information, all the way to the top including Taha’s camp, but as always said., That world of terror can only be yours with 10’s of millions of dollars.

The ground work has been laid. A new wave of young martyrs will be able to complete the mission. Aban explains, The St. Petersburg Airport is ours operate from. The Indiana mission is in place waiting and Boston is ripe. WE ARE READY! All preparations have been made. We vision it to take place in the next 10 years”. Aham, Albaf and Alfars nod with approval and total commitment.

November 15th, 2017. Aban, now 87 and Hakim, 85 are boarding their connecting flight from the J.F.K. Airport to Philadelphia. While in flight Aban looks at his brother with a dazed look, he asks him, “What is todays date? Hamik looks at Aban and forgets the question he was just asked because the look in his eyes. Hakim asks, “What’s wrong? You don’t look good. Aban repeats his question. This time, slow and with conviction. "What is today's date?" Hakim replies,

November 15th, 2017

Aban says calmly and in a whisper
"I just won 763 Million Dollars!"

763 Million Dollars

An unprecedented Danger to Our National Security

Imagine if Timothy McVeigh had won this.

Or anyone else wearing these terroristic shoes.

It's a fact future terrorist's live in the U.S.

From many countries and home grown.

Completely under the Government's radar

"All you need is a van" And win the lottery.

Yes, this is fiction

FOR NOW!

This Mission has a new time frame!

It will happen during Aban's and Hakims life time

The 1st person he calls is Wendel Bowman. Yes, the rat is still with us. Wendel is now 68 years old and still works at the airport. Aban easily convinces Wendel to claim the winning ticket and buy the airport. The Petersburg Airport is one of the smaller airports that survived the changing times. Still home to up to 25 planes. Having worked at the airport for 40 years, it was no surprise Wendel would do just that. The present owners received an offer they could not refuse. With a 763 million budget, the price is right. No red flags. The limited Government investigation which takes place when an individual wins this amount of money is focused on Wendel. And, only Wendel. Again, no red flags. Of course, there is a national spotlight on Wendell, He just won 763 million dollars. The spotlight will be short lived though. Wendell never had any friends and didn't want any. He went into hiding on the farm and lived under the shroud of the real winners. And was treated like a king. Wendel moves swiftly to satisfy Aban's next wish/order, Wendell purchases the trucking company where Hakim was employed to hire Jamel, Yusof, Raheem and Uda to "Operate the Trucks" when they arrive on the farm. Wendel inhales his assumed status of being wealthy.

Aban also arranges Wendel to begin to up the ante regarding the money laundering back to Iraq. Very substantial amounts! Now, by all accounts, Wendel will continue his soul selling ways under the watchful eyes of Aban and Hakim. He has now created a money trail and put himself in a position that makes it impossible to backtrack his role as a terrorist.

An immediate casting call goes out to Aham 20, Albaf 22 and Alfars 24. They will arrive with in the US in expeditiously. They've traveled to the U.S. before and are prepared with all their papers in order. Directly to the farm for the physical work required, as much as driving a truck.

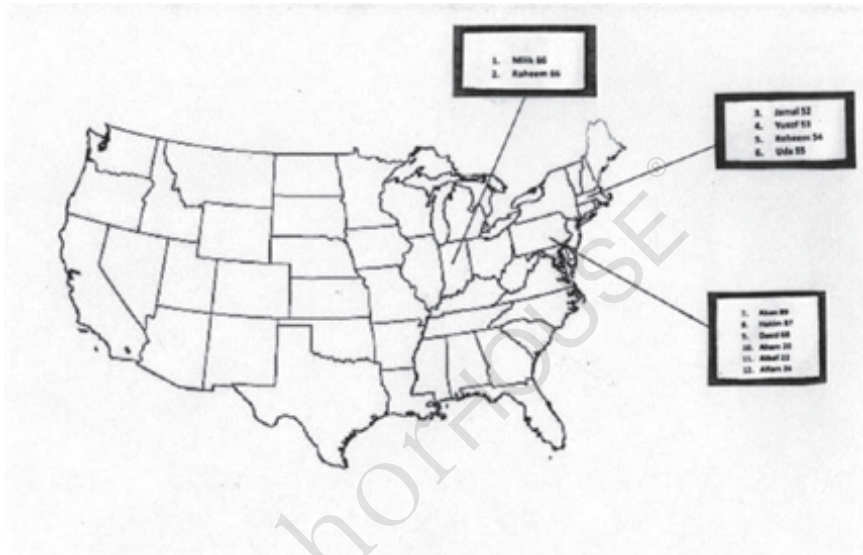

As for the other four young men, Karini, Zaman, Samara and Nejen, their time will surely be just around the corner.

Mallik 66 and Raheem 66 fly themselves into the Petersburg airport from Indiana and then off to the farm. They both have pilot's licenses. And, will fly.

Jamal 52, Yusof 53, Reheem 54 and Uda 55 Bus it into Pennsylvania from Boston. They have lived a life in the trucking world. Strength and knowledge. The trucks are waiting.

The farm, for the first time, begins to produce manure at an industrial rate. Amounts they never dreamed of with in their life time.

Aham will fly as will Raheem 89. Hakim 87 and Aban will both fly. Darzi 68 will die in the plane by his father Hakims side.

Wendel Bowman does not have to work anymore. Just play the role of “Their Jeannie”, in other words, Channel the money where ever Aban and Hakeem wish. Wendel has been promised a one-way ticket anywhere he wants to go with a bundle of cash to boot. (Days before the first explosion.)

January 2nd, 2018, Wendel Bowman Buys the Farm, literally, From Mark and John, who are now 47 and 49 years old respectively. They now own a farm that is literally and exclusively to harvest explosives. Unprecedented. This may seem trivial, but imagine learning the path most of the 763 Million takes.

Not only has tens of millions of dollars go to flame the mission in the U.S., including the mailings of cash in the millions to those trusted top Iraqi terroristic tentacles living in the U.S. so they have the capital to continue like a deadly virus. And, even more 10's of millions has been channeled over to the Iraqi network to bolster future unthinkable havoc in the future.

In short fashion, $50 million dollars' worth of jewels are bought by Wendel. It's what huge lottery winners do. And 763 million is huge. Then sent back home to Iraq to fuel future destruction earmarked Anthrax. And they will arrive at the right location. It's not the most difficult to launder such large amounts when you have enough to buy anyone who stands in your way. Just an extra when you win that kind of amount. They even Channeled at the last minute, Millions of dollars to hate groups across the country including, the Ku Klux Klan, Neo-Nazi and other "general hate groups" to bolster their cause. We must keep in mind. The money will have no meaning when there are dead.

Because of this Lottery win, the Iraqi devil will be fed. And he will Eat!

The US is in store to endure decades of misery, destruction and death.

January 15th, 2018, two months after the win, what's left of what was once healthy family, will be embarking back home to Iraq. They will never return. And they are ready to go.

Amira 87, Abido 85, Tawfeek, Beth and Shada 65 begin their Exodus home.

They leave quietly.

They arrive quietly.

Ali Jared 33 and his wife Diana, Move to Australia immediately.

January 13th, Wendel is found hanging in the very farm he bought. For the second time, he bought the farm. Rumor has it he was left hanging for five minutes before he was taken down.

Aban, now 86, embraces the fact that the mission is to be carried off by senior martyrs and backed up by a younger wave of martyrs. The Iraqi culture is known to be ageless and resilient.
