Our Collective Commitments as a Board

Grounded in our core value of Ubuntu — “I am because we are” — the Freedom A&T Board of Directors models collaboration, integrity, and shared accountability. As a member of this collective body, you would help guide our school’s mission through the following commitments:

1. Trust as Foundation

Build strong, transparent relationships with fellow board members, school leadership, and the community. Trust is the cornerstone of effective governance.

2. Collaboration with Courage

Engage thoughtfully and honestly in dialogue, even when perspectives differ. We value courageous conversations that lead to stronger, wiser decisions.

3. Accountability as Care

Hold yourself and the institution responsible for actions and outcomes. Accountability reflects our collective care for students, staff, and families.

4. Shared Success and Stewardship

Celebrate the progress we make together and steward the mission of Freedom A&T with humility, service, and strategic insight.

Why Your Leadership Matters

Serving on the Board of Freedom A&T means joining a movement—one that sees education as the pathway to liberation and community transformation. Your expertise, your voice, and your presence will strengthen our capacity to serve students, families, and the wider community with excellence and love.

Together, we can continue building the world our scholars deserve.

We invite you to join us in the work of freedom.
