About the Lake County Art League (LCAL)

What Is Our Mission?

In our 91st year, the LCAL continues to grow, change and strive to advance our mission.

What is our mission you ask? Let's start with the definition of "mission" in Webster's Dictionary:

"Mission": A specific task with which a person or a group is charged;

A pre established and often self-imposed objective or purpose.

LCAL's mission, according to our by-laws and constitution: "The purpose of this League is to create more interest in art in Lake County in the State of Illinois and to develop a higher appreciation of visual art. It shall do this through art exhibitions, festivals, demonstrations of art techniques, lectures, critiques and sharing of ideas, inspiration and encouragement between members."

How does the LCAL promote our mission? Throughout the history of the art league, depending on the circumstances, we have continued to promote these ideas and offer members various ways to promote our mission.

- We offer free shows/exhibitions twice a year at various venues.
- We conduct educational demonstrations through Zoom and in-person sessions.
- We provide opportunities to share ideas, to inspire and to encourage all levels of artists. For example:
  - Our plein air group met 14 times this year and will continue to meet during winter months at various venues so that artists can share, sketch or just socialize.
  - The two membership shows in the spring and the fall offer critiques of artists' work to help guide artists to new levels.

How does the LCAL accomplish our mission? We do it through participation from members in our shows, demonstrations, and mostly through volunteering. The LCAL would not be what it is today without the dedicated and devoted work of our members who have volunteered to help out in various board and director positions.

Last summer we participated in the Dandelion Wine Festival and the previous two years, in the Mundelein Market days promoting the art league.

LCAL January Member Meeting and Demo / Zoom Monday, Jan. 19, 2026, 7 pm

Creating from a Plein Air Sketch

As most of you know, our January, February and March meetings will be done via Zoom. For January we will have the pleasure of seeing a demonstration by the talented artist, Kathleen Kalinowski. Kathleen will be doing an oil painting using one of her plein air sketches as the subject. Please join the group from the comfort of your home. A Zoom link will be emailed to all of our members shortly before the presentation. Information is also available in our LCAL Facebook group.

Kathleen Kalinowski

Kathleen Kalinowski is a lifelong resident of west Michigan. Her home and studio are harmoniously integrated into the natural surroundings. Being a contemporary impressionist painter, she is deeply captivated by the light, atmosphere, and colors of the landscape. Her passion for painting en plein air allows her to fully immerse herself in the beauty around her, capturing the spirit in her work.

Kathleen's work has earned numerous awards and has been featured in prestigious regional and national exhibitions, as well as in solo and gallery shows. Kathleen is actively involved in her local art community. Teaching and mentoring aspiring artists has in recent years, expanded her artistic exploration to include the landscapes and cultures of Ireland, Germany, Italy and France.

EXECUTIVE BOARD ELECTIONS, April 2026

Each year the art league holds their elections at the April in-person meeting. To prepare for the election a member is asked to serve as nominating committee chair at the January executive board meeting. Several members will be needed to assist the chair with finding candidates to fill the open positions.

New officers start their term on July 1; each position serves one year. The president is the only position that can not serve more than two consecutive terms.

This year the positions of president, vice president, treasurer and corresponding secretary will need to be filled. Ali Albraki has agreed to be the nominating chair and will need several other members to assist him in finding those candidates.

Please contact him if you would like to assist him: nyika1940@gmail.com or 224-381-0321.

Plein Air Has Come to a Close..... or Has It?

Last year I managed to meet members on several occasions throughout the winter months with my S-SOS group, which stands for Socializing! Sketching Or just Sharing!

This year, our Plein air group will be meeting at some new locations and will open these meetings up to artists outside of our membership.

Each month, depending on availability, organizers and weather, we will create an event where we can meet for coffee and you can bring either something you've been working on to be critiqued, or sketching tools to capture the local scene. Or just bring yourself for fun discussions and socializing!

Look for announcements in your future emails from LCAL.

Exhibit, “While It Lasts: An Intersection of Art and Nature” at Lemon Street Gallery

Basking, soft pastel

This juried exhibition has accepted my artwork, “Basking,” which is a soft-pastel floral painting that captures the fleeting glow of sunset as it filters through blossoms. It reflects themes of impermanence, fragility, and quiet transformation—core ideas at the heart of the exhibition.

“While It Lasts” explores the intersection of art and nature, inviting viewers to consider time, change, and the beauty found in moments that cannot be held. Juried by Jillian Talarczyk, the exhibition features works by local artists, with select pieces paired with floral arrangements created by area florists.

I’m especially excited to be part of this exhibition because “Basking” was created to honor a moment that exists only briefly—the way light softens, warms, and disappears. This show celebrates that exact tension between beauty and transience.

Location: Lemon Street Gallery, 4601 Sheridan Rd., Kenosha, WI.

Opening Reception: Jan 10. It features a free drop-in art activity from 11 am-4 pm, followed by an evening reception from 6 to 9 pm with live music, food, and drink.

Closing Reception: Feb. 21, including interactive art projects, a DJ, and a live art auction.

Proceeds from the receptions will support Lemon Street Gallery’s classroom renovation efforts.

Podcast, “ArtIsZen”; Explores the Healing Power of Art

My new Spotify podcast, “ArtIsZen,” is dedicated to the emotional, mental, and everyday well-being benefits of art. Each episode invites listeners to slow down, breathe a little deeper, and rediscover how creativity can calm the mind, lift the spirit, and reconnect us to ourselves.

Books That Inspire From Hesse, Oliver and Bresson

Being one who reads multiple books at once, my reading table is often stacked high with options. That makes picking difficult. I find myself drawn to the books that most influence my creative practice: writing and photography.

So, in the hope of pointing out potential sources of inspiration for others, here's a look at what I've been reading lately. As always, comments and restacking are appreciated.

"Siddhartha"

Herman Hesse's classic tale about the spiritual journey of a Hindu prince who leaves home in ancient India seeking enlightenment and the Buddah. With his companion, Siddhartha renounces all his personal possessions, meditates heavily, and fasts in hopes of finding meaning in his life. The book is hard to put down. It's a good reminder of my own personal and artistic journey, the sacrifices and the growth that happened along the way.

Hesse's writing style, sprinkled with introspection and symbolism, is surprisingly easy to digest: sparse verbiage with no excess; direct sentences with a syntax that carries a pleasing, poetic rhythm.

"American Primitive"

A book of poetry by Mary Oliver features some of my favorite of her works, including "Tecumseh," a vividly written story of the legendary Shawnee chief who rallied Native American nations against American expansionism in the early 1800's before his death in the Battle of Thames in 1813.

I love Oliver's style: not a word is wasted, yet her work can somehow come off as lyrical.

She whittles down Tecumseh's complex tale to just 38 lines, including my favorite, which shows she can be slightly acerbic, too. And it still resonates, doesn't it?

"Where are the Shawnee now?
Do you know? Or would you have to Write to Washington, and even then,
Whatever they said,
Would you believe it? Sometimes."

Mary Oliver

Her take on the natural world in other poems in this volume come with a heavy dose of obvious reverence, Oliver is a constant source of inspiration.

“The Mind’s Eye/ Writings On Photography and Photographers”

A series of thought provoking and reflective essays and meditations by the great Henri Cartier-Bresson about photography and the photographers who populated his world.

I can’t say I totally agree with everything I’ve read so far, but his writing makes me think about the craft in a different light, which is always a good thing.

Some of what he says hits home, including this take on color photography.

“It is true that color reproductions of pictures and documents have already achieved a certain fidelity to the original; but when the color proceeds to take on real life, it’s another matter.”

In other words, color can get in the way of texture, shape, form and the relationship of one object in the frame to another; often times, these elements are the vehicles for the photographer’s message. Today’s editing programs make manipulating of color—saturating, grading and masking — easier to do than ever and, consequently, color is oftentimes overdone.

No matter if you are a parallel reader, or if you tackle one book after finishing another, these three books, I suspect, will inspire.
