

NBI WHOLE BRAIN ASSESSMENTS

The Neethling Brain Instruments (NBI®) is a revolutionary battery of instruments that strive to develop whole-brain thinking in individuals, families, couples, and children. These assessment tools will help you develop strategies to sustain positive whole-brain parenting and relationships, choose meaningful careers and enhance creativity and positive thinking in your personal and professional life. You will also be able to identify the essence of your problems personally and in relationships and apply creative solutions immediately.

The NBI® diagnostic survey indicates your personal thinking preferences. Your thinking preferences influence the way you communicate, make decisions, solve problems and manage those around you. Understanding your thinking preferences can give you a new perspective on yourself, your family, children, friends and those others you interact with every day.

What will the NBI® tell me? The NBI® gives an indication of how you:

- communicate
- act towards other people or in certain situations
- do business
- learn
- teach
- would manage in a certain career
- solve problems
- make decisions

The NBI® enables you to:

- develop effective families, parenting strategies, and relationships
- resolve conflicts in your personal and professional life
- receive the best guidance in choosing a new career and
- choose the best course of study and best study practices
- develop the whole-brain mental edge in your sport
