MUTUAL AID AGREEMENTS

WHAT IS MUTUAL AID?

- A mechanism for assisting nearby communities.
- A rapid, short-term support in response to natural or man-made emergencies.
- Emergencies that threaten and/or cause damage to the critical operations of a particular service.
- Providing continuous treatment plant operation.

MUTUAL AID AGREEMENTS

- Support may be in the form of personnel, equipment, material and other associated services needed to restore critical operations.

MUTUAL AID AGREEMENTS

- When updating your emergency preparedness plan, remember these three key word:

ANTICIPATE – PREPARE – PRACTICE

Mutual Aid Agreements

ANTICIPATE

- Different types of emergencies that could affect the operations of the system.

Mutual Aid Agreements

PREPARE

- Create a flexible plan that will help personnel and first responders to take appropriate action.

Mutual Aid Agreements

PRACTICE

- Practice the plan and improve it as you discover weaknesses.

Mutual Aid Agreements

WHAT IS OHIO WARN?

- Ohio Water Agency Response Network (OH WARN)
- It's a committee of professional organizations.
- Municipal and private water/wastewater systems.
- Working together to provide systems statewide.
- A standard mutual aid assistance agreement.
- Processes for sharing emergency resources.

Mutual Aid Agreements

Why do we need Ohio WARN?

- Water/wastewater Systems Provide;
 - Our communities with a life sustaining resource,
 - It's of vital importance to maintaining public health, sanitation and safety,

Mutual Aid Agreements

Why do we need Ohio WARN?

- Water/wastewater Systems Provide;
 - When water/water services are interrupted for extended periods of time, a community's well quickly deteriorates, as with Katrina
 - Without an adequate water supply, our communities are vulnerable to fires.

Mutual Aid Agreements

Why do we need Ohio WARN?

- Restoring water/water services in the most efficient manner possible,
- Ohio WARN provides renewed hope for fast recovery from such disasters,

Mutual Aid Agreements

Why do we need Ohio WARN?

- Ohio WARN is also available to use in non-disaster emergencies,
- When you may be in need of help or assistance.

Mutual Aid Agreements

Ohio WARN provides water and wastewater utilities with:

- A mutual agreement and process sharing emergency resources among water/wastewater agencies statewide.
- A mutual assistance program consistent with other statewide mutual aid and assistance programs and the national incident management systems.

Mutual Aid Agreements

- Ohio WARN provides water and wastewater utilities with:
- The resources to respond and recover more quickly from a natural or human caused disaster.
 - A forum developing and maintaining emergency contacts and relationships.

Mutual Aid Agreements

WHY SHOULD YOUR SYSTEM INCORPORATE MUTUAL AID?

- A mutual aid agreement enhances a system's ability to quickly recover from an emergency event.
- Systems may already have a verbal agreement to provide skilled personnel, required materials and equipment to peers in surrounding communities.
- It is important that these agreements are written into emergency plans in order for each system to realize mutual aid benefits.

Mutual Aid Agreements

WHY SHOULD YOUR SYSTEM INCORPORATE MUTUAL AID?

- Increased Access to critical resources during an emergency event.
- Quick delivery resources, such as chemical supplies, pipe and analytical services needed to return to normal operation.
- Solidarity as professionals in the service of providing a safe, desirable and necessary resource to your communities.

Mutual Aid Agreements

WHY SHOULD YOUR SYSTEM INCORPORATE MUTUAL AID?

- Reduced administrative conflict because procedures for notification, response, and reimbursement are already in place.
- Reliability that an agreement to volunteer aid exists and is updated when there is a change in employees and employers.
- Increased assurance for the public that their essential service will return more quickly.

Mutual Aid Agreements

WHAT SHOULD BE IN THE AID AGREEMENT?

- Mutual aid agreements can vary from system to system, and require some thought about community needs, logistics of the system, and legality of the agreement.
- One way to begin deciding what is important to your system is to review examples of existing aid agreements.

Mutual Aid Agreements

COMMON COMPONENTS OF MUTUAL AID AGREEMENTS;

- Language in the agreement that participation is strictly voluntary; however, with assurance that employees are willing to participate.
- Uniform procedures for notifying the participating systems, what resources can be used, and updating the agreement annually.

Mutual Aid Agreements

COMMON COMPONENTS OF MUTUAL AID AGREEMENTS;

- A release of liability for participating systems and agreement that all equipment is provided “as is.”
- A method to account for the cost of resources used and reimbursement arrangements.

Mutual Aid Agreements

COMMON COMPONENTS OF MUTUAL AID AGREEMENTS;

- A requirement that all participating systems are willing to comply with statutory requirements.
- An agreement to update inventory information between systems, including changes in supplies (for example, change in chemical product), equipment and personnel.

Mutual Aid Agreements

COMMON COMPONENTS OF MUTUAL AID AGREEMENTS;

- A statement confirming that requests for aid take priority, so long as the lending system does not violate compliance standards and thereby jeopardize their facility.
- A hierarchy of needs in case the lending system is responding to more than one aid request.
