LUBECORE INTERNATIONAL SIGNS NEW MASTER DEALER IN AUSTRALIA

Preeminent supplier of auto lubrication systems expands global presence

Campbellville, ON. Canada — Lubecore International Inc. has signed a Master Dealer Agreement for the country of Australia. The signing of this agreement makes Australia the 8th country outside of Canada with a Lubecore presence.

"We believe there is an incredible growth opportunity in this region," said Jan Eisses, President. "The partnership with Lubecore AU has allowed us to successfully re-launch our brand in Australia. Their wealth of business experience across the country is a huge asset to Lubecore International as we continue to invest and build on our global brand equity."

Lubecore AU has signed a long-term agreement with Lubecore International and plans to develop more than 10 local Lubecore Dealers throughout Australia over the next five years. Lubecore AU is owned and operated by Shane Chestnut and Ben Patrick, and is located in Yatala, Queensland.

The signing of the Lubecore Master Dealer Agreement in Australia comes on the heels of the LCI brand's recent development agreements in Belgium and South Korea earlier this year.

The LCI system has more than 55 Dealer locations, 40 of which are outside of Canada.
