Proclaimed in Full Force, February 16th, 2025

MOORISH NATIONAL REPUBLIC OF PEACE
DECLARATION OF RELIGIOUS INDEPENDENCE AND RESTORATION

Originally Declared June 19, 2020
Reaffirmed February 16, 2025
Amended and Restated 2026

We, the Supreme Religious Council and the Moroccan Nationals and Citizens of the Moorish National Republic of Peace (M.N.R.P.), assembled under the Divine authority and protection of the Creator of the Universe, solemnly declare the restoration of our Moorish religious, cultural, ancestral, and national identity and the continued existence of our people as a self-governing Religious Society.

We acknowledge our Moorish and Moroccan heritage and our sacred duty to preserve our faith, history, culture, families, institutions, property, and community for ourselves and future generations.

The Moorish National Republic of Peace is established as a Moorish Religious Order, cultural national body, and self-governing ecclesiastical community whose members voluntarily covenant together under its Constitution and laws.

We declare our religious independence and our right to govern our own internal religious and organizational affairs; to determine our doctrine and membership; to establish ministries, councils, schools, charitable institutions, trusts, religious courts and voluntary tribunals; to acquire and administer property; and to preserve the religious and cultural identity of our people according to law.

Our sovereignty is religious, cultural, ecclesiastical, organizational, and internal. It is exercised through the voluntary allegiance of our people and through the Constitution, Supreme Religious Council, Grand Wazir, Court of Justice, Provinces, ministries, and institutions established by the MNRP.

We do not declare rebellion or hostility against the United States or the several States. We do not claim that our religious independence removes our members or property from applicable civil or criminal law, nor do we claim territorial sovereignty over lands merely because they are owned, leased, held in trust, or administered by the MNRP.

Rather, we declare our right to exist and peacefully govern ourselves as a distinct Religious Society while operating in harmony with the Constitution and laws of the United States and the laws of the jurisdictions in which we operate.

We affirm the right of our people voluntarily to restore and preserve their Moorish heritage and to be recognized internally as Moroccan Nationals of the MNRP Religious Order. Such recognition expresses our religious, ancestral, cultural, and organizational identity and shall be administered according to the MNRP Constitution and Repatriation Act.

We affirm the inherent dignity and God-given rights of our people, including freedom of conscience, religion, peaceful assembly, association, expression, movement, family, education, culture, property, due process, and the pursuit of lawful prosperity.

We further affirm our right to establish lawful relationships with religious societies, cultural organizations, educational institutions, charitable bodies, communities, and peoples throughout the world and to preserve the historical and cultural connections of our Moorish people.

We shall pursue our restoration through peace, education, lawful self-government, religious discipline, community development, economic advancement, charitable works, civic participation, and the preservation of our heritage.

Our independence shall not depend upon hostility toward another people.

Our identity shall not depend upon the denial of another government's lawful authority.

Our sovereignty shall be demonstrated through the orderly government of ourselves.

Our nation shall be strengthened through the character, education, discipline, service, and unity of our people.

Therefore, with firm reliance upon Divine Providence, we solemnly proclaim the Moorish National Republic of Peace as a self-governing Moorish Religious Society dedicated to Love, Truth, Peace, Freedom, and Justice, preserving our religious independence, Moorish heritage, Moroccan identity within our Order, and the lawful institutions established for the advancement of our people.

We restore what was forgotten.

We preserve what was inherited.

We govern what is ours to govern.

And we build for the generations yet to come.

For and on behalf of the Moorish National Republic of Peace
