A top-down view of a leatherworking workspace. In the center, a large piece of brown leather is laid out on a dark wooden surface. Two spools of thread, one light brown and one dark brown, are positioned above the leather. To the right, a pair of metal shears is open. In the top left corner, a pair of red-handled scissors is visible. A black mallet with a metal head is on the left side. At the bottom, several metal tools, including a fork and various punches, are arranged horizontally. The brand name 'Maxifel' is written in a white, elegant cursive font across the leather, with the tagline 'wallets-bags & more' in a smaller, simpler font below it.
