WE CELEBRATE

JUNETEENTH

On June 19, 1865, Union Troops reached Galveston, Texas, and enforced the Emancipation Proclamation, freeing the last enslaved Black Americans - 2 ½ years late. This action became the symbolic date for the true end of slavery in the U.S.

Why Do We Celebrate Juneteenth?

- Freedom Finally Came
- Honors Black Resilience & Joy
- Inspires the Continued Quest for Justice for all People

As we remember our past, let us also protect our future.

As the fight against racism continues, we must teach the future generation to be proud and united.
