

OVERVIEW

Indigenous engagement and land/regulatory leader with over 25 years of experience across Western Canada's energy sector. Skilled in complex negotiations, ESG implementation, multi-stakeholder collaboration, and community-driven project development. Known for building trusted relationships with Indigenous rightsholders, government, and industry while advancing responsible development and operational excellence.

APPROACH

- Negotiation and maintenance of Relationship Agreements, Impact Benefit Agreements, Consultation and Capacity Agreements, Protocol Agreements and Traditional Land Use Study Agreements
- Authoring Indigenous Engagement Policies
- Developing "Locally Engaged Economic Development" (LEED) committees and the Indigenous Procurement Policy for organizations
- Indigenous and Stakeholder Engagement contributions for the Equitable Origin EO100 Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance (ESG) certification process
- Relationship Agreement Joint Management Advisory Committees

UN SDG COMMITMENTS

CONNECT WITH US

QUICK FACTS

Managing projects, risk and multi-stakeholder and rightsholder negotiations across Canada's resource sector for over 25 years in British Columbia and Alberta.

Work closely with communities and nations including:

- Moberly
- Saulteau
- Blueberry

MAIN AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- Indigenous and community engagement
- ESG and sustainability strategy
- Government relations
- Permitting and compliance
- Surface land agent
- Project risk / project management

WHY US?

Connecting People to Purpose and Prosperity:

Stakeholder consultation is messy, but it doesn't have to be difficult. We often forget what its like to be on the receiving end of new information and how it can put us in a defensive position. We can help you navigate this very unpredictable process with predictable tools. Chris has been connecting people to purpose across Canada for over 25 years while deeply respecting cultures, traditions and history of its diverse people.

THE COST OF STATUS QUO

The world is changing and how we measure success will forever shift how successful organizations will be in the long term. The new silent partner is the public's perception of how an organization measures up to the highest bar set for the environment, social responsibility and governance to the people of the world. What price will you pay to not participate in this new world?