

America, My America

Do you grow weary, my America
With great problems on every hand
The complexities of being a leader
Challenge courage throughout the land

There are shortages, inflation, and pollution
Our older citizens caught in a bind
As devaluation of the dollar continues
Solutions extremely difficult to find

But let us stop and remember, my America
When adversities we squarely face
Greater benefits follow the trials
As history records in each case

So, take heart, my precious America
We won't let you down because you gave Us a place to live in great freedom
We'll stand uncommonly tall and be brave

We love you and believe in the future
Fearlessly onward together we'll sail
You're the greatest and grandest of nations
Confidently united...we cannot fail
