Farmers Market Assistant

Liberty Farms, a NOFA-NY certified organic diversified vegetable and livestock farm located in Columbia County, NY, is seeking a Farmers Market Assistant for the remainder of the 2021 season.

We currently participate in several farmers markets that take place throughout the week, and are specifically looking for someone to help us with Saturday and/or Sunday markets, with the possibility of a Thursday market later in the season. All of these markets are located in NYC. In most cases, the Farmers Market Assistant would be meeting up with our other Market Assistant in the city, and would not be doing the market alone.

Responsibilities for this position include loading our market van with veg, meat, eggs, and bouquets, driving down to the city, setting up and running the stand with our other market staff (who would meet you there), packing up for the day, driving the van back up to the farm, and unloading any leftovers. We will provide all training to the right candidate.

Due to the nature of this position, the ideal candidate would either live in Columbia County or be willing to travel to the farm in the wee hours of the morning in order to begin their day.

Requirements:

- A valid driver's license
- The ability to lift 50lbs
- Experience working on a farm or food retail preferred, but not required

Competitive compensation offered.

This position would begin immediately, ideally beginning Sunday, August 22.
If interested, please send a resume to sales@libertyfarms.org.
