What do you do if you are a gazillionaire and would like to travel to space? You build your own rocket. That is exactly what Amazon founder and owner of the dubious Washington Post newspaper Jeff Bezos did last month. His crew also included his brother, Mark, along with 18-year-old Oliver Daemen and 82-year old, Wally Funk, making Mr. Daemen and Ms. Funk the youngest and oldest people in space.

The craft, named Blue Shepherd, after astronaut Glenn Shepherd took flight on the 52nd anniversary of the Apollo 11 moon landing. During the flight, the capsule reached an altitude of about 66 miles. The 60-foot booster accelerated to Mach 3 or three times the speed of sound to get the capsule high enough, before separating and landing upright. The capsule landed under parachutes, with Bezos and his guests briefly experiencing nearly six times the force of gravity, or 6 G's, on the way back. Blue Origin only reached suborbital space, which means that the flight enters space but does not enter orbit around Earth. Scientifically, that's not a new frontier. Although these current flights use new technology, suborbital flight with humans aboard was accomplished by NASA back in the early 1960s. Blue Origin, founded by Bezos in 2000 hasn't revealed its price for a ride to space but has lined up spots for auction bidders. Ticket sales, including the auction, are approaching $100 million, Bezos said. Two more flights are planned by year's end.

But just because we CAN go to space, should we? Tourists have always pushed boundaries, seeking new places and experiences. You see this playing out in how people are choosing to travel. According to Leisure and Aging, "Adventure tourism is one of the fastest-growing segments of the tourism market. It has become so popular that approximately 100 million adults have chosen vacations that are classified as soft adventure." Space tourism is a logical next step for this growing trend. There are pros and cons to space tourism. First, it's super cool. In the history of time, only around 500 people have been able to glimpse the view from outside our atmosphere. Secondly, more space science could mean more cool, new inventions. Many of our technologies are based on innovations that started in space. The last space race to the moon gave us the technology for our running shoes, foam mattresses, and bulletproof vests. Also, it may or may not open the door for cheaper, more frequent, more accessible access to Earth's orbit for scientific exploration.

On the flip side, one must consider such issues as potential damage to the Earth's ozone layer. It may also contribute to space junk. Currently, there are millions of micro-shards of space junk that have accumulated in Earth's orbit. By sending so many more space craft into space through tourism without first solving the problem of space junk, the issue could be made even worse. The Sea-breeze News Division of Intergalactic Travel and Astronautical Affairs believes that space travel is best left to the experts. Private trips would open the door to space hotels, space Buccee's, space casinos, the list is endless. And then, of course, there's the fact that it's dangerous and expensive. But if you really want to go on an outer space adventure, save your money, grab a jar of Tang and some motion sickness medication and get on the waiting list.

Dear Editor,
I want to clue your readers in on RETIREMENT. I thought I would retire and get so much done. In only six months I've become a couch potato. I have mastered the daytime remote. Oh my, there is some crazy stuff on daytime TV. Did you know Jerry Springer is now a TV judge! You see, I have to watch antenna TV because I am too cheap to pay $180.00 for cable, and let's face it, that's a lot of beer money wasted. If you drink enough beer, you can find humor in most TV shows. I don't speak Spanish but I find myself laughing at the Mexican channels. After 9 months of being retired and drinking beer all day, I thought maybe I needed to go back to work. I went back to work for a construction company for about 2 weeks. I thought I was going to die because that work is too hard for me. So, I cut myself a deal. I quit that job and I don't have a beer till 5 o'clock. Retirement is good for me and I am getting a lot done now.

Dear Retired,
I am simply going to use your letter a public service announcement.

Dear Editor,
I live in a small apartment complex in Galveston County and every time my landlord sees my little dog out without a leash she calls and reminds me there is a leash law in Galveston County. Is this harassment?

Signed
Harassed in the County

Dear Harassed,
Galveston County is serious about their leash laws. After many tickets Miss Raylynn has resorted to this.

I want to thank the Seabreeze for the nice article that Jatón Liner did on Dorothy and I and our "60" years together. Dorothy was alert and joking and contributed to most of the article. Little did we know that only 3 days later she would pass away. I want to thank Jatón for being with me all day long until my daughter arrived on the day Dorothy passed peacefully away. Jatón's support and caring helped me get through this time of need. Thanks to Jan Abbitt for her support and getting us extra copies of the Seabreeze. I also want to thank Pastor Rick Harper and Pastor Bob Gibson of the San Leon Community Church for being with us on the day of Dorothy's transition. Their prayers and FAITH support the past year has assured us that one day we will spend eternity together. Thank you to our friends and neighbors for the food, prayers, cards and just being here for us. Thanks to all of San Leon.

Dear Editor,
I am a retired man and I picked your paper up at the Bacliff post office. I saw the ad for GLVI Radio, so I tuned in. Very cool music! It puts me in my happy place. It comes on every Monday night at 9:00. It's an internet radio station so you can just go to www.radiofreegalveston.com on your phone or any device. There is a link to The Cycle Stop, The Seabreeze News, and Absolute Hospice.

I was out tinkering in the garage on a Monday night and decided to tune in. The radio show turned into a damn beer quiz show! Hell Yeah! That was right up my alley! They play 3 songs and you have to guess what the 3 songs have in common. If you text the correct answer to the number given, The Cycle Stop guy will buy you a beer at The Sunset Lounge. I finally won a free beer at The Sunset Lounge. I had such a blast at that place that I hung around for a long time. So even though my free beer ended up costing me $20, it was money well and happily spent. I definitely have a new hangout!

Signed
Hanging with a great crew in Sunny San Leon.

Dear Hanging,
I love the beer quiz also. The SeabreezeNews has some great

FISHING TIPS

Don is on a first name basis with most of the local fish...

After all the rain in the first part of July, the run-off from the Trinity and San Jacinto Rivers and back bays have East Bay very muddy all the way to Texas City. Oh, well, that'll finally clear up. Fishing is always fun when you get to go. I went out with one of my sons and a great-grandson. We covered lots of water, but we struck out. We had fun and no one got hurt as I take pride in that.

This time of year it's very hot out in the open water so if you go, take plenty of water to stay hydrated. You might even consider fishing at night as it would be much cooler.

Bait has been very limited especially croakers are hard to find. You might consider plastic bait, that's what I use.

DEAR STEVE'S WIFE TRAINING SCHOOL TIPS FROM A GRADUATE

THE REAL HOUSEWIVES OF SAN LEON PART ONE

In honor of Dear Steve's birthday, I chose to interview Butch "Cassidy" Soucy and his wife, Pat "Calamity Jane" Soucy who are the owners of our local San Leon Liquor store. Butch and Steve had been buddies for nearly 30 years and were in the works of starting construction on the new Wife Training School building which, ironically, is the same number of years Pat and Butch have been married. I was just real sure that after that many years of friendship and being involved with the new school and such that surely Pat was a graduate and had been whipped into shape. Boy, was I surprised at what I learned.

For starters, my first question was who wears the pants? Before I could hardly get it out of my mouth Pat said, "I do!" Immediately Butch said "I wear 'em!" When asked who does the shopping, Butch said this was a woman's job. However, Pat had back surgery not long ago and Butch had to take over the shopping duties for two months at which time he told her, "Your recovery time is up! No decent woman needs more than two months to recover from anything!" Finally, I thought, now we are getting somewhere!

I asked Pat, does Butch boss you around? Her reply was, "He tries." Then I asked Butch, "Does she get sassy when you tell her what to do and how do you handle it?" Butch said she tries but he recommends a blackjack and a set of handcuffs to take care of that sassiness. I then asked which of them decides on major purchases such as cars. Pat jumped in and told me about the brand-new car she went and bought without discussing it with Butch. Butch, of course, claimed she bought the one she knew he wanted her to buy. By now I'm just totally confused as to who the hell was running this household! I said to Butch, "I'm not so sure you have a handle on this woman!" Butch replied, "Well, I might use some bribery." Bribery? I don't remember any bribery course in Dear Steve's Wife Training School and I graduated 5 times!

At this point I'm really trying to find some sort of wife training tips to report to my readers. Finally, I asked them both the question, what is your best tip for new marriages? Butch replied, "Selective hearing." Pat replied, "Communication."

It was at this time I noticed a gong sitting on the end table of the couch. I asked so what is this all about? Pat said with all that selective hearing, she needed a way to get Butch to come eat dinner. But that was when she cooked! Now, pay attention new wives and take note. Pat said when she didn't feel like cooking, she would just go tell Butch they were having something she knew he wouldn't want to eat. This little reverse psychology generally landed her eating dinner at her favorite restaurant, Gilhooley's being served by their favorite server, Chamel.

In desperation, I asked to Butch, do you have any last tips? His reply, "Learn to say YES DEAR." Now, I don't know how many of you knew Dear Steve on a personal basis, but I feel sure the Yes Dear class was meant for the wives only! My conclusion of this interview would have to be that Pat NEVER attended Dear Steve's Wife Training School!

My sincere thanks to Butch and Pat Soucy for agreeing to this interview. It was much fun! Please tell them hello when you stop by The San Leon Liquor Store for your very own Dear Steve's Wife Training Shirt!

Funny Bones

Two Mafia hit men are walking deep into a forest in the middle of the night. One of them says, "I gotta admit I'm scared out here." The other replies, "You're scared? I gotta walk back alone!"

An 80-year-old lady was marrying for the 4th time. A newspaper asked her if wouldn't mind talking about her first three husbands and what they did for a living. She smiled and said, "My first husband was a banker, then I married a circus ringmaster, next was a preacher and now in my 80s, a funeral director." When asked why the four men had such diverse careers, she explained, "I married 1 for the money, 2 for the show, 3 to get ready, and 4 to go."

A very successful lawyer had just parked his brand-new Bentley in front of his office, ready to show it off to his colleagues. As he was getting out, a truck came along too closely and completely tore off the driver's door. Fortunately, a policeman in a police car was close enough to see the accident and pulled up behind the Bentley with his lights flashing. Before the policeman had a chance to ask any questions, the lawyer started screaming hysterically about how his Bentley, which he had just purchased the day before, was completely ruined and would never be the same, no matter how any car body shop tried to make it new again. After the lawyer finally calmed down from his rant, the policeman shook his head in disbelief saying, "I can't believe how materialistic you lawyers are. You are so focused on your possessions that you neglect the most important things in life." "How can you say such a thing?" asked the lawyer. The policeman replied, "Don't you even realize that your left arm is missing? It was severed when the truck hit you!". "OH, MY GOD!!!", screamed the lawyer. "My Rolex!"

Tired of constant blonde jokes, a blonde dyes her hair brown. She then goes for a drive in the country and sees a shepherd herding his sheep across the road. "Hey, shepherd, if I guess how many sheep are here, can I keep one?" The shepherd is puzzled but agrees. She blurts out "352!" He is stunned but keeps his word and allows her to pick a sheep. "I'll take this one," she says proudly. "It's the cutest!" "Hey lady," says the shepherd, "if I guess your real hair color, can I have my dog back?"

Recently a routine police patrol was parked outside a bar in the Outback. After last call, the officer noticed a man leaving the bar so apparently intoxicated that he could barely walk. The man stumbled around the parking lot for a few minutes, with the officer quietly observing. After what seemed an eternity, in which he tried his keys on five different vehicles, the man managed to find his car and fall into it. He sat there for a few minutes as a number of other patrons left the bar and drove off. Finally, he started the car, switched the wipers on and off; it was a fine, dry summer night, flicked the blinkers on and off a couple of times, honked the horn and then switched on the lights. He moved the vehicle forward a few inches, reversed a little, and then remained still for a few more minutes as some more of the other patrons' vehicles left. At last, when his was the only car left in the parking lot, he pulled out and drove slowly down the road. The police officer, having waited patiently all this time, now started up his patrol car, put on the flashing lights, and promptly pulled the man over and administered a breathalyzer test. To his amazement, the breathalyzer indicated no evidence that the man had consumed any alcohol at all! Dumbfounded, the officer said, "I'll have to ask you to accompany me to the police station. This breathalyzer equipment must be broken." "I doubt it," said the truly proud Redneck. "Tonight I'm the designated decoy."

Little Johnny attended a horse auction with his father. He watched as his father moved from horse to horse, running his hands up and down the horse's legs and rump, and chest. After a few minutes, Johnny asked, "Dad, why are you doing that?" His father replied, "Because when I'm buying horses, I have to make sure that they are healthy and in good shape before I buy. Johnny, looking worried, said, "Dad, I think the UPS guy wants to buy Mom."

Today a man knocked on my door and asked for a small donation towards the local swimming pool. I gave him a glass of water.

San Leon MUD Update

August is National Water Quality Month!

Just try to imagine what life would be like without easy access to clean water. There would be no fountains to quench your thirst when you're out on a hot day. No more pools, and no more lakes and rivers clean enough for recreational activities. No more drinking water straight from the tap, or even filtering it through your Brita. Our lives would be totally different, and not for the better. National Water Quality Month reminds us to take a moment to consider how important these water sources are not just to humans, but also to the other inhabitants of these ecosystems. By thinking about the little things that you do on a daily basis that could have a negative effect on water quality, you'll be one step closer to making a difference. Visit www.nationalwaterqualitymonth.org for tips on how you can help preserve and protect our natural resources.

We need you to tell us who the people are in the picture, who and where they caught the fish, how much it weighed, when it was caught, what kind of fish it was, what kind of beer and bait the angler was using, and any other pertinent information you want to see printed in the paper. Ever since our crystal ball got lost in Hurricane Ike, we have no way of knowing these vital facts unless you tell us!

Joseph Francis Porter Sr.

Joseph Francis Porter Sr., 56, of San Leon, TX was born on October 23, 1964 and entered into rest on Sunday, May 30, 2021.

Joseph was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and was the eldest of two children born to Francis Crawford Porter and Patricia Catherine Thomas Porter.

He attended Alief Elsie High School, and was active in the Civil Air Patrol from 1978-1980. After graduation, he proudly served his country as an army soldier from 1983 to 1985 during the Cold War, where he was stationed in Augsburg Germany with the 1st/36th Field Artillery Regiment. Joseph attained the rank of E-4 and received medals for Sharpshooter, M-16 Rifle Marksman, Hand Grenade, and the US Army Service Ribbon.

On December 3rd, 1983 Joseph and Karan A. Ortlip were married in Winslow, Township, NJ. After his service, he attended San Jacinto College North, Texas A&M Fire School, and later the Texas Military Academy- noncommissioned officers training, and earned his degree in the State of Texas as a certified paramedic and began his career as a certified firefighter/paramedic, and later went on to become a Sergeant in the Texas State Guard. He was also a skilled HVAC Tech for many years.

Among his greatest joys and achievements were his marriage, the birth of his children, and joining the military. He was loyal, loving, courageous, fearless, and protective. His favorite activities were going to the renaissance festivals and firearms.

Joseph is preceded in death by his mother, Patricia Catherine Thomas Porter and father, Francis Crawford Porter.

He is survived by his wife, Karan A. Ortlip-Porter; daughter, Tara Marie Porter; son, Joseph Francis Porter Jr. and wife Karolina Porter; sister, Laura Catherine Porter-Powell; grandsons, Joseph Francis Porter III, William Alexander Robbins Jr., Erik G. Porter, Aiden M. Porter, Jakob L. Porter; granddaughters, Angelique Layla Cole, Bianca Griffith; uncle, Benjamin Thomas Porter; Army Battle Brother, John Wilder; and friend, Robert Craig Fahrer.

Joseph had battled a rare metastatic testicular cancer since August 2014 and became a strong advocate for Testicular Cancer Awareness.

JOSEPH MICHAEL “DUSTY” HILL

Dusty Hill, bassist for the enduring Texas blues rock band ZZ Top for over half a century, has died at age 72 at his home in Houston. He is survived by his wife and daughter. As a some-time resident of Sunny San Leon, Dusty has always held a special place in the hearts of locals. This iconic man of music will be truly missed.

Everyone knows in the 1970s a lot went on in San Leon and if you ever visited a boat ramp it was like watching cartoons. In fact, I have taken a cooler and a chair to the boat ramp at San Leon Marina (where Pier 6 is now) that was owned and operated by George Ryker who was well-educated and very wealthy. Terry Traugott was his right-hand man and operated the boat ramp and lift. They also had a souped-up Jeep with the top cut off, a 55-gallon barrel full of water for more traction and it had a wench. To give it even more pulling power, there was an anchor post very deep in the ground and the Jeep could be attached to it.

On this beautiful Saturday afternoon one of George’s wealthy friends wanted to take his boat out of the water. So Terry hooked it all up and was in the Jeep trying to pull the big boat up onto the concrete ramp to no avail. George told him if he couldn’t do it, to get out! Terry told George that the cable was old and not in good shape. George proceeded to get in the Jeep and pull the big boat up and out of the water, but the cable snapped sending the boat back into the water to be moved another day. All of the cable ended up in the topless Jeep with George Ryker.

We finally found his complete ear beside the Jeep. He went to the hospital to have it sewed back on and it worked.

SCENES OF THE CRIME REVISITED IN LEAGUE CITY

The League City Historical Society has put a new twist on an old event. Historical tours have now reached a new level borrowing from an ancient tradition, the walkabout. A new series of walkabouts transforms the spiritual journey into a first-hand experience of the City’s history.

The Murder and Mayhem Walkabout takes visitors through the streets to experience historic crime scenes. The 1872 murder of the brother of the founder of League City, “The Great Clear Creek Tragedy” and other notorious crimes such as the 1921 Butler Bank shoot out on Main Street, are only two of the six crimes explored.

Docents in period costumes, carrying lanterns, guide participants through more than seventy years of local crime history.

This Walkabout, featured on Texas Chronicles, sold out in less than two hours. More are upcoming.
