Bayside BRIEFS:

SHIPWRECKED!

Hey y'all remember the post about the homeless guy at Mooner Beach? Well, if any of y'all have been around San Leon for longer than ten years you would probably know Barefoot Ricky.

I went to Ricky's home (YES, I SAID HOME) to ask him about the events that landed him at Mooner Beach. This 70-year-old Veteran told me that he was doing something that was on his bucket list. He put his little boat in on the end of 7th Street with the help of some friends. He went along the shore around to the Sunset Lounge where he stayed for a few days, then he went to the Dickinson Bayou Bridge. He told me he tried to camp there but it was too loud with the traffic so he went over to the Moses Lake Gate to sleep on his boat. Again, a 70-year-old Veteran doing a bucket list. He was out there camping on his boat for about three weeks and he headed home. He got over by Mooner Beach and a ship's wave swamped his boat. If you notice in the picture, those are his clothing that he hung out to dry.

There were plenty of nice people that dropped him off food, and there were the mean nasty people that posted online that he was homeless and living there. Not true. Ricky was shipwrecked! Before you post something on social media, you need to make sure it is factual and before you comment on something that MIGHT be true, I would think twice.

HOW TO HAVE A HAPPY THANKSGIVING AND A MERRY CHRISTMAS

With Thanksgiving and Christmas right around the corner, The Seabreeze News Division of Manners and Etiquette got together and came up with some Dos and Don'ts while visiting family.

Do: Bring the host of the shindig a bottle of decent wine.

Don't: Bring the kind of crap sold at the Dollar Store or anything in a box.

Do: Bring your favorite pie

Don't: Show up without your favorite pie and say, "Oh, I don't like the kind of pies that you have."

Do: If you are a woman, you belong in the kitchen. Even if the host says, "I got this," you belong in the kitchen!

Don't: If you are a woman, don't go outside and sit with the men folk and try to talk football. You belong in the kitchen!

Do: Men, bring your own beer, the host may not have your brand of beer.

Don't: Not bring your own beer and proceed to tell the host that his beer tastes like horse pee.

Do: Choose your Thanksgiving or Christmas destination carefully. Find out what they are cooking and what their festivities are. Find out if they are doing a gift exchange.

Don't: Show up and say, "Oh, I didn't know you were only cooking turkey, and then say I didn't know I needed to bring a gift.

Do: When using the host's bathroom after washing your hands, wipe down the sink and faucet.

Don't: While using the host's bathroom treat it like it's the local corner store bathroom. Also, stay out of their medicine cabinet! There is nothing in there that is any of your business!

Do: Compliment the host on the place settings and the wonderful spread of food.

Don't: Compare the host's turkey to your Uncle Bob's World Famous Fried Turkey. That goes back to planning your destination carefully! You probably should have went to your Uncle Bob's (Your Uncle Bob didn't invite you because of your lazy ass wife won't help with the dishes and won't stay in the kitchen where women belong.)

Do: Women, after dinner if you are a smoker go out and have a smoke then get your ass back in that kitchen!

Don't: Have dinner and let two of the four women there clean up the mess. That's just WRONG! If you're sitting with your boyfriend, he will notice that you are not pitching in and your relationship will end before the next shindig. If you're sitting with your husband and not pitching in, shame on him!!

We all notice that couple

Do: Dress appropriately.

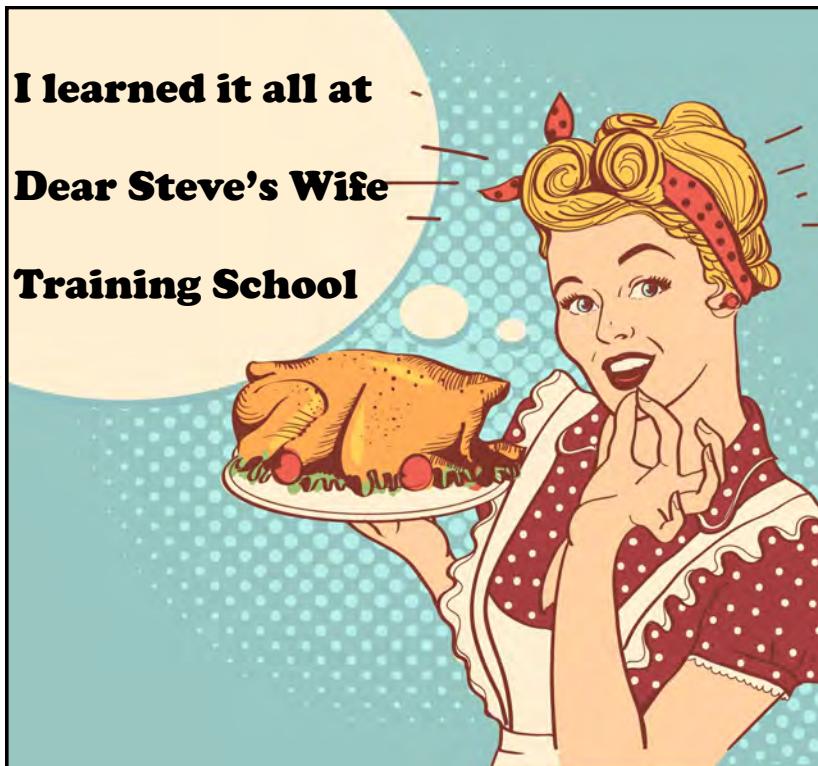

Don't: Ladies, don't wear the outfit that you had on last Saturday night at the dance hall and saloon, unless you're trying to hook up with your cousin or something like that. Men, dress like a man. There will probably be man things going on like deep frying turkeys, beer drinking, and if you live in Butternut, Wisconsin, you will be chopping firewood.

Yes, we said Thanksgiving and Christmas. If you're offended, this probably isn't your kind of paper.

I learned it all at

Letters To The Editor

arguing with myself whether to go or not. I need some advice.

Signed,
Nervous in Baytown

Dear Nervous,
I read your letter a few times... Wow, now I'm nervous! I have put a lot of thought into your letter and this is probably not good advice but I would go and get in that same situation and after you cheat with a married woman I would tell her you need a raise or else...

Dear Editor,
Since the inception of organized society, there have always been degenerate, mental defectives who have gained unnoticed entrance by crawling under the edge of the tent, only to infect their surroundings with a vile, evil retribution for their own failures. Failure of acceptance, of career, as an honorable person, or even a respectable neighbor.

And most of the time they seek this rant by heaping their hate upon defenseless, innocent, unsuspecting victims. Such is the case at this writing. Some venomous people have been poisoning pets in San Leon. They have apparently struck on multiple occasions and managed to kill both dogs and cats. Their actions have been responsible for heartache, financial expense, fear and exasperation. Negative actions engender negative results. However, there is also good. In anger and determination, I offered a $500 dollar reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the responsible parties. What I found in this tiny, yet great hamlet of San Leon is the stuff America is famous for. Several concerned citizens stepped forward and volunteered to add to the reward coffer. At this writing, the reward has grown to $1,200. By the time you read this, it may be larger. America, and this little town of San Leon, is made up of the finest, bravest, most good-hearted people who want nothing better than to live in a society where we can all think as individually as we want to, but pull together as one when the chips are down. I have never been so proud to be a San Leon-ite as I am in this moment.

And to you, DOG POISONER, I say this; look out! We're coming to get you and remove your disease-ridden infection from our midst. You can run, but you can't hide. Not for long. We will do whatever it takes to get the goods on you. Your days are numbered. Keep your eye out for gas powered golf carts. What scant information we have thus far suggests they may be tossing poisoned meat balls from them. And please, if you own a gas-powered golf cart, don't get mad at me. You see, that is the guilty party's protection. There are 'many' gas-powered golf carts!

Dear Editor,
I liked your front page story about the Next Door App. Some of those people are just asking for handouts and taking advantage of kind people. I just saw a post where they were asking for everything from 2% milk, dish soap, corn, meat. (They only have hamburger meat, hot dogs, and bologna) They also want a bike or golf cart that they will fix. I am on a fixed income and budget my money. I don't have extra to give away especially to someone that doesn't say "We are looking for work."

Signed,
Tired of Seeing I HATE TO ASK
BUT...in San Leon

Dear Tired,
That's why we did that story. I missed that post, but some of those people are just scammers. They don't work and prey on good hearted people. There are many resources out there besides begging on Next Door.

Dear Editor,
This is for all the people who are paying DISD taxes. I am a senior citizen on a fixed income like so many others. I have no children or grandchildren attending DISD, but it is the highest tax on my property. My question/statement is why does DISD have a Mercedes Benz in their "fleet"? Who is paying for that? We all are! I don't own a Mercedes, but since I'm helping pay for it, do you think they'd let me drive it for a day? NOT! LOL. Just wanted to give all you taxpayers some info in case you didn't know. You can't miss it, it has DISD down the side of it.

Signed,
Judy H. in San Leon

Dear Judy,
I, along with the entire Seabreeze staff, also do not have children and pay the sky high school taxes. If they ever let you drive the Benz, come pick us up for a road trip! We'll bring the beer.

Dear Editor,
The company Christmas party is coming up in a few months and I am mortified of going to the next one. The last Christmas party was at an upscale hotel so we all had rooms and the party was held in the banquet hall. Well, I was drinking a lot, a whole lot, and was in the ladies room where I met the boss's wife. She was so attractive. Well, she came onto me and we went to my room just for a drink. We got to my room and she was all over me like a cheap suit and, yes, I went there. Since then, I have been so scared that my boss would walk in my office and fire me. The Christmas party is going to be held on December 11th at another fancy hotel with all rooms paid for. I am

San Leon Don's FISHING TIPS

Don is on a first name basis with most of the local fish...

Fishing is good now as this time of year the weather changes often. Most of the fish I see guides bringing in are just over the minimum size. I've heard that fishermen that get out of the boat and wade catch larger fish, so it's up to you how you want to fish.

I want to let you know that the flounder season will be closed this year from November 1st to December 14th. No flounder are allowed in your possession during this period. I know how you feel but it is necessary to help rebuild our flounder population.

Keep on chasing them reds and specs. Hopefully, next year the flounder season will be back open during the flounder run.

DEAR STEVE'S WIFE TRAINING SCHOOL TIPS FROM A GRADUATE

Real Housewives of San Leon Why Two Wives are Better than One

In our continued series of the Real Housewives of San Leon I choose to interview Kenna and Lisa aka "The Girls" in the community.

This love story goes back 30 years when they met at a Superbowl party in 1992 set up by friends. Kenna said she was very nervous hoping this would be "The One" while Lisa openly admits she had a backup plan to exit the building! With that said, y'all be sure and follow along to see who actually wears the panties with this couple!

The set-up was a success and "The Girls" both agreed it was love at first sight. But little did Kenna know Lisa had started her takeover. Within months of the relationship Lisa convinced Kenna that she should move from her cozy little apartment to one Lisa had picked out. You see, Lisa was an apartment locator and was going to bank an easy grand by convincing Kenna to move. Before Kenna knew what happened she was in a new apartment that came with an extra toothbrush and an accountant to manage her money!

In 1998 "The Girls" decided to buy their first home. Somehow luck landed them right here in Sunny San Leon. It was an exciting time for them, until they started taking a better look around. They realized they had moved into a Small Fishing Community with a Big Drinking Problem which also seemed to be quite conservative. Even though "The Girls" were conservative themselves, they weren't sure how this little community with their rebel flags and Dear Steve's Wife Training School signs would handle their relationship.

Finally, after four years they decided to venture out to The Sunset Lounge where, according to the neighbors, was a nice, quiet little local place to drink a cold beer. Before they could even make it to the bar, they were greeted by locals who had already had several cold beers! Being the hospitable person she was, Sexy Sandy hollered at "The Girls," y'all need to meet my sister! She's a lesbian too! Mortified, they quickly looked down to be sure they had not dressed like lesbians. How did she know? Where was this place? Who were these people? What happened next was simple San Leon hospitality and Lisa and Kenna did not have to buy a beer all night.

In 2015, the two were legally married at the Sunset Lounge with the whole community there to celebrate. Lisa was now backed by a license to be the boss. Kenna admitted this was the case and though Lisa was running the show if Kenna needed anything all she had do was ask. Lisa was always happy to give Kenna a little spending money should she need it.

Finally retired, Kenna spends her days making sure dinner is cooked, the house is clean, the yard is manicured, and the fur babies are fed for Lisa's arrival home from work. Not bad for a housewife who never attended official schooling by our beloved and very much missed, Dear Steve.

Until next month, don't forget to stop by The San Leon Liquor Store and get your very own DSWTS t-shirt.

Funny Bones

Two guys were doing construction on a house. One of them who was nailing down siding would reach into his nail pouch, pull out a nail, and then either toss it over his shoulder or nail it into the siding. The other guy, figuring this was worth looking into, asked, "Why are you throwing those nails away?" The first guy explained, "If I pull a nail out of my pouch and it's pointed towards me, I throw it away 'cause it's defective. If it's pointed toward the house, then I nail it into the siding." The second guy was outraged. He yelled, "You moron! The nails pointed towards you aren't defective! They're for the other side of the house!"

Once a woman invited some people to dinner. At the table, she turned to their six-year-old daughter and said, "Would you like to say the blessing?" she said. "I wouldn't know what to say," the girl replied. "Just say what you hear mommy say," the woman answered. The daughter bowed her head and said, "Lord, why on earth did I invite all these people to dinner?"

Morty and Selma, an elderly couple, were driving across the country. The woman was driving when she got pulled over by the highway patrol. The officer said, "Ma'am did you know you were speeding?" Selma, hard of hearing, turned to her husband and asked, "What did he say?" Morty yelled, "He says you were speeding!" The patrolman said, "May I see your license?" Selma turned to her husband once again and asked, "What did he say?" Morty yelled, "He wants to see your license!" Selma gave the officer her license. The patrolman then said, "I see you are from New York. I spent some time there once and went on a blind date with the most annoying woman I've ever met." Selma turned to her husband and asked, "What did he say?" Morty yells, "He said he thinks he knows you!"

A Texas State trooper pulled a car over on I-10 about 2 miles from the Texas/Louisiana state line. When the trooper asked the driver why he was speeding, the driver said he was a Magician and Juggler and was on his way to Lake Charles to do a show at the Shrine Circus and he didn't want to be late. The trooper told the driver he was fascinated by juggling and said if the driver would do a little juggling for him then he wouldn't give him a ticket. He told the trooper he had sent his equipment ahead and didn't have anything to juggle. The trooper said he had some flares in the trunk and asked if he could juggle them. The juggler said he could, so the trooper got 5 flares, lit them and handed them to him. While the man was juggling, a car pulled in behind the patrol car. A drunken good old boy from San Leon got out, watched the performance briefly, then went over to the patrol car, opened the rear door and got in. The trooper observed him and went over to the patrol car and opened the door asking the drunk what he thought he was doing. The drunk replied, "You might as well take my ass to jail, because there ain't no way I can pass that test."

Jake was in a terrible accident at work. He fell through a floor tile and ripped off both of his ears. Since he was permanently disfigured, he settled with the company for a rather large sum of money and went on his way. One day, Jake decided to invest his money in a small, but growing telecom business. After weeks of negotiations, he bought the company outright. But, after signing on the dotted line, he realized that he knew nothing about running such a business and quickly set out to hire someone who could do that for him. The next day he had set up three interviews. The first guy was great. He knew everything he needed to and was very interesting. At the end of the interview, Jake asked him, "Do you notice anything different about me?" And the gentleman answered, "Why yes, I couldn't help but notice you have no ears." Jake got very angry and threw him out. The second interview was with a woman, and she was even better than the first guy. He asked her the same question, "Do you notice anything different about me?" and she replied, "Well, you have no ears." Jake again was upset and tossed her out. The third and last interview was the best of all three. It was with a very young man who was fresh out of college. He was smart. He was handsome. And he seemed to be a better businessman than the first two put together. Jake was anxious, but went ahead and asked the young man the same question: "Do you notice anything different about me?" And to his surprise, the young man answered: "Yes. You wear contact lenses." Jake was shocked, and said, "What an incredibly observant young man. How in the world did you know that?" The young man fell off his chair laughing hysterically and replied, "Well, it's pretty hard to wear glasses with no ears!"

San Leon MUD Update

Galveston County Mosquito Control

Galveston County has a fleet of vehicles that are deployed throughout the county to spray for mosquitos. If you have any questions regarding spraying schedule or want to request spraying in your area, you can call them at 800.842.5622 or visit their website to see maps of the locations they've recently sprayed as well as where they intend to spray next.

Property Address Reminder

Part of San Leon's rate order requires that all residential and commercial buildings in the district have the property address posted on the building. The letters and numbers used to mark addresses should be at least three inches high and should be placed on the building so they are visible from the street. This is to the residents' benefit as well since any EMS responders will be better able to locate your property with the address visible.

The District is pleased to return to in-person attendance for our monthly meetings, which are held at the main office at 443 24th Street. In the interest of public safety, we will not be holding townhalls until the COVID crisis has subsided.

The MUD meetings are open to the public & are typically held on the third Tuesday of every month at 6:30 PM. Agendas can be found three days before the meeting at the MUD office or online at www.slmud.org

Back in the '50s, '60s, and early '70s, Tony Foyt owned a bay house in San Leon located on Dickinson Bay in the 1400 block of Avenue K on the waterfront. Tony Foyt was the father of A. J. Foyt, the 4-time winner of the famous Indy 500 race. When A. J. was growing up, he enjoyed fishing from their pier and just being on the water. But as he grew up, he became interested in auto racing and he just didn't have time for fishing anymore so they sold the property.

Hospice + Care

Serving the San Leon and Surrounding Communities!

What is Home Health?

- If your physician sees a need for ongoing treatment after your visit, then an order may be written for home health.
- Your doctor may suggest an agency but remember, it's your choice! Choose CHARTER HEALTH!
- Services may include skilled nursing, therapy such as physical, occupational, and/or speech.
- The patient must be homebound. However, you may go to the barber, family event, church, etc.
- Most, if not all service is covered by Medicare or your insurance agency.

What is Hospice Care?

- It begins when a physician certifies that the patient qualifies and is appropriate.
- It is comfort care without curative intent; patient is no longer responding to curative treatment or has elected not to further pursue such treatments.
- All expenses related to the terminal diagnosis are covered by Medicare, Medicaid and most private insurance. This includes medication.
- Care is given wherever the patient calls home.
- Can a patient get better on hospice? YES!

- CHAP Accredited
- Trusted Local Nursing Staff
- 5 Star Rated on Social Media
- Houston Based Company
