CAMP RUNAMUCK

I would like to thank The Seabreeze for letting me tell my story. Years ago I had young children, a boy aged 5 and a girl aged 7 and they wanted to go to summer camp. I was uncomfortable sending them to camp.

My thought was, "who in the hell sends their children off into the woods with strangers for a week?" My husband and I discussed it and that was a big NO on my behalf. My husband kept telling me that they will be safe, that he went to camp, and it was a positive experience. I started looking into summer camps online and I found a Camp Backiwocki that was a five-day camp that allowed the parents for the first four nights and then the parents went three miles down the road to an all-adult camp called Camp Runamuck.

The last night would be to celebrate as adults, not sitting with the kids and making s'mores and tending to bug bites, stumped toes, sunburns, etcetera. I thought to myself, sounds good. The kids can go to camp and I will be able to watch over them. When my husband got home I showed him what I found and we agreed we would take a week off work and go to Camp Backiwocki. We booked the camp and we told the kids. The whole family was excited.

We arrived at Camp Backiwocki on a Monday morning at 8:00 am as we were instructed by the camp leader, Bernard and his lovely wife Rosemarie. They told us that Monday is basically a meet and greet with the other families, camp counselors, and to get a basic feel of the camp and its rules. We met the other nine families and the kids all played chase and all the crazy stuff kids do. They seemed to be having a great time. At noon we were all corralled to what they called the mess hall. I must admit, the food was really good. It was at that time that the counselors introduced themselves and explained a few of the rules. It was made very clear that all men, boys, and male counselors bunk together and all females bunk together. I just assumed that families had their own bunking quarters, but what the heck. After, all my husband will be with my son. The kids had to go to the bunkhouse at 7:00 pm to take showers and to bed at 8:00 pm sharp. The counselors were so good with the children and told the adults to go out to the courtyard for beer and wine. I thought that to be a little strange, but we were also at camp.

We went to the courtyard and met up with the other parents. Come to find out, we were the newbies. These parents had been bringing their kids here for years. After a few drinks they started talking about Camp Runamuck and how much fun it was and that was the main reason they come here year after year. The hubby and I were exhausted and decided to go to the bunkhouse, him to the boys and me to the girls.

Tuesday morning the counselors started waking the kids up at 7:00 am and told the parents that they could sleep in. I declined and got up with my daughter. Breakfast was at 8:00 am and my husband and son were waiting for us at a table. There was a full day of activities planned for each day. Oh my! These kids learned water safety, swimming lessons, canoeing, hiking, and how to identify poisonous plants. The kids were having the time of their life! We, as parents, not so much. Between the canoeing, swimming, and all the other activities we were worn out. But every night at 8:00 pm the parents met at the courtyard for beer and wine. I started noticing the moms were dressing a little provocative at the 8:00 pm adult social time. It seems Camp Runamuck is some spectacular event, that's all they talk about.

As the week went along, the parents stayed out later and later. It was Friday and we were comfortable leaving the kids with the counselors, so we arrived at Camp Runamuck, and had an elegant dinner. Drinks and dancing were to follow. Hubby and I went to get another drink and passed by the dance floor and the couples were all over each other's spouse. We then realized what's been going on all week. We were at a swinger's camp! We immediately grabbed the kids and never looked back. The kids never knew why we really left.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

A Big Shout Out from the Veterans of D Company

This past month, nineteen of us, both veterans and spouses, gathered in Crystal Beach for a Reunion/Retreat. We attend these affairs as often as is possible as this is a very close group, all serving together in the same unit at the same time during the Vietnam War. Over the years, we have attended many reunions in virtually every corner of this land. These would include both large, organized affairs and smaller, more intimate gatherings. We look forward to these get togethers as they are very special to us. To paraphrase one of our members, "We are our own therapy". It is also fair to say that we are a very critical group and not shy about voicing complaints when things aren't as we think they should be.

So, with that in mind, we want to tell you; it is our unanimous opinion that what we experienced in your community rates a genuine five stars and ranks it at the top of the list of all our venues. Since these experiences rarely happen by accident, it is only right we acknowledge the people that made it all work so well.

To our comrade and local hosts Paul and his lovely wife Lynda: You guys were the glue that kept this all together. Without your grit and determination, none of this would have happened. Thank you so much.

To Charlotte and the team at Cobb Real Estate: Thanks for getting us into The Lone Survivor Retreat. This is the perfect facility for such a gathering. Everything we needed, especially enjoyed the breezeway between the two wings. Highly recommended to anyone considering this type of event. Close to beach too. A bonus, it's only a hop and a skip from The Big Store. Very convenient for needed resupply.

To Greg at Texas Custom Golf Carts. Thanks for the shiny, new carts. They showed up on time, clean and with full tanks. Made the beach jaunts a pleasure. Hated to give them back to you.

Can't say enough about the folks at Stingaree Restaurant. Great location, great food, and a really friendly environment. Oh yeah! Cocktails were yummy too. Would we eat there again? Absolutely.

For those of us who played golf at The Ranch at Crystal Beach: A rousing thank you to J.R. and his brother Lance for showing us the way. Especially enjoyed the gab fest with J.R. after our round.

Rhea of Rhea's Photography:

Must have been like herding cats to get nineteen cantankerous individuals to behave and the session done in such fast-fading light. Changed by the minute. Great product too. You are a pro.

Lisa Leonard Alexander:

Delicious cookies and a nice rendition of our division insignia. We ate all the cookies but still have the pictures to prove it. Thank you.

Barbara Hornbeck Lee: For first putting us on to Crystal Beach and recommending The Lone Survivor.

Stephanie Mattes of Texas DOT:

Thanks for getting us the Priority Boarding Passes on time for those of us with disabilities who drove. It made the ferry crossings a breeze. Would have hardly noticed them, except that it's a nice ride and the dolphins added some excitement.

Could thank a lot more people but suffice it to say, Texas' reputation for hospitality is well deserved. We will hold the memories our time there among our best. If we are blessed enough to do this again next year, you will be our first consideration.

Thank you,
The Veterans and Spouses of D Company, 4/3 Infantry

Dear Editor,
Kamala's house? Martha's Vineyard? I'm sorry, but I think it's brilliant! Why should Texas take in all the people coming here illegally? Just what is a sanctuary city? I laughed so hard when I saw that they bussed 50 people to Martha's Vineyard.

Signed,
LOL in San Leon

Dear LOL,
A sanctuary city is a city whose municipal laws tend to protect undocumented immigrants from deportation or prosecution, despite federal immigration law: "Mayors in those cities reaffirmed their status as sanctuary cities." It was a bold move on Abbott's part but maybe if the Mayors of sanctuary cities have to figure out how to house and feed these people and get them medical attention, they will have some understanding of what some of the border cities go through.

Every day is a holiday

FISHING TIPS

Don is on a first name basis with most of the local fish...

Fall weather should be showing up soon. I've had reports that fish are starting to show the fall transition in East Bay. One day you catch specks, the next day they are not there. Reds are still around especially at the jetties. They will bite on artificial bait or popping cork with shrimp on a long leader four or five foot long. Flounder fishing will pick up before you know it, it's usually the first part of November.

If you don't have a boat, the North Jetty in Bolivar is a very good spot. There's a bait camp that has bait and snacks and there is a Port-A-Can on the premises.

DEAR STEVE'S WIFE TRAINING SCHOOL TIPS FROM A GRADUATE

Who will win the race for San Leon Mayor?

This month we are taking a break from the usual hustle and bustle on how to be a good wife. With so many newcomers to our community, I feel it's important everyone know about our upcoming race for San Leon Mayor. How it began, why it began, how it works, and what it means to us folks down here in Sunny San Leon.

Many years ago, a handful of our forefathers were sitting at the Sunset Lounge having a cold beer. As usual, they were kicking around ideas on how to make our community a better place to live. San Leon has always been known for its generous and kindhearted ways. We have a solution for just about anything that ails you and our forefathers could always point you in the right direction for some help. Sick and need your grass mowed? Hard times and the holidays are coming up? Disabled Veteran or Senior in need of some help at home? First Responder in need? Cancer has stuck and put you in a bind? Stray cat with a broken leg? Right up to helping folks rest in peace.

So they devised a plan to elect an honorary Mayor to monetarily help solve and delegate some of these problems. You see, our forefathers were really good at delegating! They decided our mayor would be a citizen of the community and once a year we would have different folks compete for the job. The elections would be held at a place where there was plenty of cold beer to help encourage folks to empty their wallets! Oh, wait. I may be getting ahead of myself. Unlike other political campaigns that fuss and fight over the voting system and who's getting paid off, they made it quite simple. Any and everyone had the right to vote and vote often, as many times as they wanted to. They could even vote for multiple candidates. CASH VOTES! Now there's a concept. You could even invite your out-of-town friends to come over for a cold one and vote.

Where does all that cash go you ask? It stays right here in San Leon and supports all her many charities and their good deeds. Each candidate picks the charity their vote dollars will go to. They can choose the same charities or divide them up. Win or lose, every dollar from each candidate goes to the charity of their choice.

Now, it's been a couple of years since we had a good ole boy Mayor election in San Leon. Could it be because for the first time ever, a woman won the election in 2019? Hell, I don't know but I do know she has started something. Something that I'm not sure Steve, Joe, Keith, Jabbo, Robbie or Eddie would be happy about as several of them smile down on us wondering why the few that are still here aren't putting a stop to it. You see, another first is happening this year, two women are running for the elite title of mayor. Of course, there are a couple of menfolk throwing their hats in the race. We'll just call them John Solano and Guy Crenshaw. Do they have what it takes to win and put these women back in the kitchen where they belong? Do you want a say in what happens? Are you tired of a woman running San Leon? Well, my only suggestion to you is to SHOW UP and make your vote count!

This year's election, commonly known as Where the hell is San Leon Mayor Election, will be held at its usual watering hole. Wayno's bar located at 901 E. Bayshore Dr in Sunny San Leon, Texas. Come on out join in the festivities and remember:

Vote Early and Vote Often. We won't tell!

And don't forget to get your very own Dear Steve's Wife Training School shirts at our local San Leon Liquor.

Funny Bones

A blonde and her husband are asleep when the phone rings, she answers it. After a few minutes the blonde says, "I don't know. That's like 300 miles away," and she hangs up the phone.

"Who was that?" asks her husband.

"It was some woman asking if the coast was clear!"

A woman approaches a man and says, "Excuse me Sir I'm doing a little survey, can I ask you questions?"

The man says, "Yes, of course."

Woman: "If you're travelling in a bus and a female gets on the bus and she's got no available seat, would you give up your seat for her?"

Man: "No."

Woman: "What if the lady that got on the bus was pregnant would you give up your seat then?"

Man: "No."

Woman: "What if the lady got on the bus was a senior lady would you give your seat then?"

Man: "No."

Woman: "You are one selfish man. You have no manners. Who do you think you are?"

Man: "I am the Bus Driver."

A little boy was sitting on his step eating candy just as fast as he could unwrap it. Man passing by saw what he was doing. He said all that candy is not good for you and will spoil your dinner. The little boy replied, "I don't know about that, but my grandfather lived to be 102 years old." The man said Wow! You mean by eating candy? The boy replied, No, by minding his own business.

A San Leon man's wife came home with four cases of beer, three boxes of wine, four gallons of vodka, two bottles of gin, five bottles of whiskey, and two loaves of bread. "Are we having guests?" the man asked. "No," she replied.

"Then for Heaven's sake why so much bread!!"

Tom had been in business for 25 years and was finally sick of the stress. He quit his job and bought 50 acres of land in Alaska as far from humanity as possible. He saw the postman once a week and got groceries once a month. Otherwise, it was total peace and quiet. After six months or so of total isolation, someone knocked on his door. He opened it and there was a huge, bearded man standing there.

"Name's Lars, your neighbor from about 10 miles up the road. Having a party Friday night, thought you might like to come... about 5:00."

"Great," says Tom, "after six months out here I'm ready to meet some local folks. Thank you!"

As Lars is leaving, he stops. "Gotta warn you ... There's gonna be some drinkin'."

"I can drink with the best of 'em." Again, as he starts to leave, Lars stops.

"More 'n likely gonna be some fightin' too."

Tom says, "Well, I get along with people, I'll be alright. I'll be there. Thanks again."

Once again Lars turns from the door. "More 'n likely be some wild sex, too."

"Now that's really not a problem," says Tom, warming to the idea. "I've been all alone for six months! I'll definitely be there. By the way, what should I wear?" Lars stops in the door again and says, "Whatever you want. Just gonna be the two of us."

A Polish guy goes into an the DMV to get a driver's license, but first must take an eye test. The clerk asked him to look at the bottom line with the letters: C Z W J N Y S A C Z and asks, Can you read that? "Read it?" he says. "He's my best friend."

A religious young woman went to confession one day. When she had entered the confessional she said, "Forgive me Father, for I have sinned."

The priest said, "Confess your sins my child and be forgiven."

The young woman said, "Last night my boyfriend made mad passionate love to me seven times."

The priest thought long and hard and then said, "Squeeze seven lemons into a glass and then drink the juice."

The young woman asked, "Will this cleanse me of my sins?"

The Priest said, "No, but it should wipe that smile off of your face!"

San Leon MUD Update

Upcoming Billing Changes

In an ongoing effort to improve operations and customer experience, San Leon MUD has been working to upgrade to a new billing software system. Bills will now be mailed in envelopes instead of postcards, allowing us to put in additional mailers and fliers to better communicate with the community!

There are also some additional improvements that our field staff will have with regard to service orders, so we're excited about the improved efficiencies we'll be seeing as we get through the transition period. As a heads up: your account number will be changing and if you had your billing set up to automatically withdraw, you'll need to update your information in the new system; contact our office for details on how to do that.

It's Time Texas Challenge

The San Leon MUD is participating in the It's Time Texas Community Challenge, an eight-week health competition that's free to join. Texans across the state will compete and earn points by eating healthy, being active, and staying hydrated! To learn more, visit: <https://ittcommunitychallenge.com/>

Hospice + Care

Serving the San Leon and Surrounding Communities!

What is Home Health?

- If your physician sees a need for ongoing treatment after your visit, then an order may be written for home health.
- Your doctor may suggest an agency but remember, it's your choice! Choose CHARTER HEALTH!
- Services may include skilled nursing, therapy such as physical, occupational, and/or speech.
- The patient must be homebound. However, you may go to the barber, family event, church, etc.
- Most, if not all service is covered by Medicare or your insurance agency.

What is Hospice Care?

- It begins when a physician certifies that the patient qualifies and is appropriate.
- It is comfort care without curative intent; patient is no longer responding to curative treatment or has elected not to further pursue such treatments.
- All expenses related to the terminal diagnosis are covered by Medicare, Medicaid and most private insurance. This includes medication.
- Care is given wherever the patient calls home.
- Can a patient get better on hospice? YES!

- CHAP Accredited
- Trusted Local Nursing Staff
