A Note From Our Director

As I reflect on 2025, I am filled with gratitude for the families, partners, volunteers, and supporters who made this year one of meaningful connection and steady growth for Autism Caring Center.

This year was about showing up. Showing up for families navigating life with a child on the spectrum. Showing up for teens and young adults who need safe, welcoming spaces to belong. Showing up for communities across Western Pennsylvania who are learning how to be more inclusive, informed, and supportive.

Together, we hosted 55 events, served more than 150 teens and young adults through Spectrum Club, and reached over 2,000 individuals through our programs, conferences, and community initiatives. We connected with 2,200 families through holiday programming and expanded our digital reach to more than 149,000 people, helping families find resources, encouragement, and connection when they needed it most.

Behind every number is a story. A parent who finally felt understood. A young person who found confidence in a space where they belonged. A family who realized they were not alone. These moments are the reason we do this work.

Autism Caring Center has now served our community for eight years, and as we grow, our mission remains the same. To create inclusive environments where individuals on the spectrum and their families feel supported, seen, and empowered. None of this would be possible without the generosity of our donors, the commitment of our partners, and the trust of the families we serve.

Thank you for being part of our story. Your support helps ensure that our doors remain open, our programs continue to grow, and our community stays strong. I am excited for what lies ahead and deeply grateful to walk this journey together.

I am honored to serve this community,
