

About Us

CMRCHA promotes the showing and training of reined cow horses in Montana. We provide reined cow horse clinics and competitions which accommodate beginners to seasoned showmen, women and youth. We pride ourselves on developing all-around cow horses using proper horsemanship and good sportsmanship in a family-oriented environment.

CMRCHA was formed in 2013 by a group of horse enthusiasts dedicated to advancing the reined cow horse in Montana. We are an affiliate of the National Reined Cow Horse Association, a fast-growing organization upholding traditional vaquero horsemanship and promoting the sport of riding and showing exceptionally trained reined cow horses. We currently host 5 shows per year around Montana and attract competitors from all over Montana and many neighboring states.

Your Support will help us to:

- ★ Maintain our low entry fees so more people can compete in more classes.
- ★ Offer added money to classes to attract and increase competition and help our competitors offset some of the expense of showing.
- ★ Provide awards for the year end high points winners.

★ Support our media outreach efforts. Hosting a competition which qualifies for NRCHA points is expensive! We need fresh cattle and lots of them; a NRCHA approved Judge, and rental of a facility for the event. We would truly appreciate your support!

Sponsorship Opportunities

As with any non-profit association, the CMRCHA cannot continue to succeed and grow without the assistance of sponsors. CMRCHA is totally run by volunteer labor- there are no paid employees.
