Along with Zach's dedication to education he also enjoys mountain backpacking, traveling and weight lifting.

Mr. Zach Vilinskis

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Mr. Joshua Jones comes from the United States. He has a Bachelor's of Science in Mathematics from the University of South Carolina, and a Master's of Science in Mathematics Education from Syracuse University. He has taught at Syracuse University and at Guangzhou Foreign Language School. He believes his teaching can be characterized by a quote by Ralph Waldo Emerson:

"The revelation of thought takes a mind out of servitude into freedom."

This quote leads him to urge students to think. He allows students to explore mathematics through exploration activities, and draw conclusions from observations. The students guide their own learning in his classroom; namely, he is there to create a stimulating learning environment and to facilitate their learning. Moreover, after the exploration, he uses the students' conclusions – which they drew during the exploration – as a bridge to introducing formal academic language. He has learned this technique – among many others – from teaching abroad; hence, he is excited to continue developing his teaching at St. Paul American School Hanoi.

Mr. Joshua Jones

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Mr. David Coley comes from the East Coast of the United States, but traveled to the Midwest for his undergraduate education at the University of Chicago, earning a B.A. in Mathematics. Since receiving his teaching certification, he has taught high school mathematics at two prestigious private schools in Southeastern Pennsylvania. In his teaching, David focuses on helping students develop the skills they need to become independent problem solvers. He does this by giving students plenty of practice with problem solving and by encouraging students to write and reflect on clear exposition of their ideas and of their techniques. When he's not working with young people, David enjoys traveling, eating global cuisine, and trying to recreate the foods he likes in his own kitchen.

Mr. David Coley

MEET OUR TEACHERS

She has a passion for helping students communicate with local people, understand Vietnamese culture and build up their language skills to get ready for any Vietnamese certificate exams. She's so excited for her 7th year working with St. Paul students.

Ms. Trang Le

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Molly grew up on a small island off the coast of Maine and spent lots of time being active in the outdoors. She was a three sport varsity athlete in high school and college and developed an interest in the mind-body relationship. She conducted research in college and found a positive relationship between exercise and cognitive ability. This project sparked Molly's interest in health and wellness. She went on to earn her Masters Degree in Nursing from Yale University with a specialty in Pediatrics. She has coached youth sports for the last eight years.

Molly was working in Oregon as a Pediatric Nurse Practitioner prior to coming to Hanoi. She loves spending time with children and teaching them about healthy lifestyle choices and their growing bodies. Molly is a registered nurse in the School Health Center at St. Paul and teaches High School Health Class. She has given several presentations to students and staff on Emergency Response, Healthy Lifestyle Choices for Kids, and Puberty among others.

Mrs. Molly Blackburn

Mrs. Amy Krauth grew up in Lisbon, Portugal; she moved to the States to go to college, ending up in Springfield, Missouri. There she earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English Education from Evangel University and a Masters in Education degree from Drury University. After twenty years in Missouri, Mrs. Krauth wanted to travel the world, so she and her husband moved to Asia in the fall of 2016.

Mrs. Krauth has over 18 years teaching experience at the high school level. She has spent the last two years teaching in an international school in Shanghai, China. She loves teaching and working with students as a club sponsor and coach. Outside of school, Mrs. Krauth enjoys hiking, going to the beach, and travelling.

Mrs. Amy Krauth

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Mrs. Sarah Webster comes to us from New York State where she has been teaching science for the past 10 years. Sarah obtained her Master's Degree in Secondary Education from The College of Saint Rose in Albany, New York. Her passion for teaching comes from her desire to share her love of studying the natural world and the environments we live in, with students of all ages. Sarah has also spent time as an advisor of various Science & Environmental clubs over the past several years, and she likes to encourage her students to enter competitions and grants in subjects they are passionate about. These efforts have lead Sarah and her teams of students to go on to win numerous contests and grants over the years.

Sarah will be living in Hanoi with her husband and two small children. She is very excited to join the St. Paul team in teaching Science this year. Outside of teaching, Sarah enjoys spending time with her family, swimming, traveling, exploring the great outdoors, and trying new and exciting foods.

Mrs. Sarah Webster

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Mr. Chad Fitzsimmons comes to St. Paul Hanoi from his hometown of Portland, Oregon. He holds a B.A. in Secondary Education from Western Oregon University, as well as an M.A. in Curriculum Design and Instruction from Portland State University. Mr. Fitz, as his students usually refer to him, has been coaching, teaching and mentoring teenagers for the past 12 years, and he has spent the last 5 years teaching English Language Development at Clackamas High School, just outside of Portland. There, he' taught English to immigrant and refugee students from all around the world, representing over 30 countries and 20 languages over those years.

Mr. Fitz likes a classroom that functions as a family; working together not only improves learning, but also makes it more fun. As a community, we can appreciate one another, push each other toward our respective goals, and support one another through the long year ahead. In class, he pushes students to find their voice, express their creativity, and embrace the sorts of mistakes they can learn from.

When he's not in the classroom, Chad plays soccer and obsesses over his home team, the Portland Timbers, reads whenever he can, and spends time with his growing family. He looks forward to bringing his energy and knowledge to St. Paul, and can't wait to jump in and become part of this incredible community!

Mr. Chad Fitzsimmons

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Ms. Acree is originally from Boise, Idaho in the US and recently taught in Thailand. She comes to St. Paul with a background in IB studies, EL Learning or Expeditionary Learning, Outward Bound and Common Core curriculum development. Her time in the classroom has shown her that today's generation of students require teachers who can galvanize a relevant use of technology, instill a need for collaboration and teach the literacy of the world as much as the literacy of the word!

With a Bachelors of Arts in Education as well as a Literacy Endorsement from Boise State University, she feels blessed to have taught in schools that are extremely innovative and focused on educating the whole student. Her former colleagues both in Thailand as well as at Anser continually inspired her learning through inquiry-based research, a project-based curriculum, applicable literacy, community involvement and critical awareness. She believes in establishing a strong school culture that is holistic and upholds a clear vision; one which demands high expectations to be executed through an authentic and motivating curriculum. Ms. Acree's philosophy is to fully embody the ideal that all students should be taught in a collaborative environment where they procure a sense of interdependence and responsibility to the world around them.

When she's not in the classroom, she can be found adventuring with her son Shae. They enjoy water sports, skiing, traveling, reading and spending time with people who make them laugh. Ms. Acree is thrilled to be joining the St. Paul family!

Ms. Jia Acree

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Mr. Justin McCormack was born in New York, and has taught in both NY as well as Oregon. He has received degrees in both states as well, and most recently completed his Master's Degree program specializing in educational technology.

Mr. McCormack's focus is on critical thinking, encouraging students to share ideas in a collaborative setting. Using project-based learning, Mr. McCormack emphasizes the importance of higher order thinking using design thinking and a variety of other strategies that require students to take a hands-on approach to their own education.

In his free time, Mr. McCormack enjoys traveling and exploring the outdoors. He bikes, hikes, climbs and is always ready for an adventure.

Mr. Justin McCormack

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Blaire Hart is from the U.S. She graduated from the University of Oregon with a Bachelor of Arts in English Literature in 2003 and a Master's in Education in TESOL from the University of Georgia in 2012. She has taught English as an Additional Language since 2009 in elementary schools, high schools, technical colleges, and universities in the U.S. and overseas. She was the instructor for a TEFL Teacher Trainer Course in Atlanta, Georgia. During her most recent stint abroad, she also led various teacher trainings throughout India as a U.S. State Department English Language Fellow.

Ms. Hart believes that students learn language when it's relevant, authentic, and engaging and therefore tries to foster an environment in her classroom where lessons are student-centered and include a variety of interests and learning styles. Her favorite part of teaching is learning about her students from around the world, listening to their experiences, and connecting with them during these interactions.

In her free time, Ms. Hart enjoys being outdoors, seeing live music, reading, and spending time with her husband and young daughter.

Ms. Blaire Hart

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Mr. Brian Murray is originally from the UK and holds a BSc in Physics from the Queen's University in Belfast. He also has a TEFL certificate. He first became interested in working with children during his time at the Lyric Theatre in Belfast. For the past years he has taught a wide range of age groups in Taiwan, ranging from kindergarten to junior high school. Brian believes in creating a fun and engaging environment in the classroom in order to maximise students learning potential. He has taught English, science and math.

Mr. Brian Murray

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Ms. Danielle is originally from sunny California in the United States and has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Design from North Carolina State University's College of Design with a minor in Business Administration from the Poole College of Management. Additionally, Ms. Danielle holds a Masters of Science in Teaching and Learning from Colorado State University and a TEFL certification.

Ms. Danielle moved to South Korea in 2014, and loved it so much she stayed for over 3 years! During her time, she grew to appreciate how important it is to foster a personalized approach to education, and still strives to create a learning experience tailored to each student's passions and individual needs.

Even though Danielle immediately loved Vietnam's beautiful landscape and delicious foods, she still finds herself missing Korean barbecue at least once a week. When she's not nibbling on kimchi, you can find her reading, walking her dog around the lake, or painting in her studio.

Ms. Danielle Barrio

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Chuckie Carver was born and raised in Rutherfordton, North Carolina. After graduating from UNC-Chapel Hill in 2010, he spent the 2010–2011 academic year working as a substitute teacher. He later moved to Zhengzhou, China in the fall of 2011 to teach English at the Henan Institute of Education. While teaching and providing lectures on American culture, he decided to pursue his M.Ed. in Higher Education Administration at Vanderbilt University.

After graduating from Vanderbilt, worked as a college admissions counselor with ENREACH Education in Xi'an, China, and later in Chengdu, China. He is excited to Join the St. Paul community in 2018, and enjoys helping students in improving their writing abilities, developing their senses of self, and finding the right colleges for their futures.

Outside of work, he loves lifting exercising, traveling, and watching sports.

Mr. Chuckie Carver III
