

Nadine Lajoie

B. Sc., President & CEO of FLB Renal Institutional Foundation

Featured in esteemed publications such as Forbes, USA Today, ABC, FOX, and CBS Money Watch, Nadine is an international speaker and #1 best-selling author. In 2022, she joined FLB Regenesi LLC as the President of the FLB Renal Institutional Foundation. The foundation's primary goal is to prevent kidney disease, assist individuals at risk, and advance preventive and regenerative medicine.

With a Bachelor's degree in Actuarial Sciences and a background in finances and as a business management consultant, Nadine brings 33 years of experience. She now channels her skills and expertise to support the growth and advancement of FLB companies, facilitating their journey to new heights.

Nadine has been featured in magazines alongside notable figures like Oprah Winfrey, Zig Ziglar, and Donald Trump. She has also shared the stage with renowned speakers such as Jamie Lee Curtis, Les Brown, Tom Hopkins, Mark Victor Hansen, Marianne Williamson, Stedman Graham, Michael B. Beckwith, Dr. John Gray, Adam Markel, and Marcia Cross, among many others, including appearances at TEDx, the California Women's Conference and the India Entrepreneurship Bootcamp.

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS:

- ✓ Why is kidney disease making headlines recently?
- ✓ What inspired your decision to become president of FLB Renal Institutional Foundation?
- ✓ How can people prevent diabetes, hypertension, and heart conditions to mitigate kidney disease?
- ✓ What treatments are available for preventive and regenerative medicine?

- ✓ Who is the founder of FLB and what motivated his 12-year research commitment?
- ✓ How can individuals improve their health at home?

Media Contact

Beverly Zeliger: 949.421.7562
info@nadyinternational.com

BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE!