The infinite variety of street life, the nooks and crannies of the medieval Barri Gòtic, the ceramic tile and stained glass of Art Nouveau facades, the art and music, the throb of street life, the food (ah, the food!)—one way or another, Barcelona will find a way to get your full attention. The capital of Catalonia is a banquet for the senses, with its beguiling mix of ancient and modern architecture, tempting cafés and markets, and sun-drenched Mediterranean beaches. A stroll along La Rambla and through waterfront Barceloneta, as well as a tour of Gaudí's majestic Sagrada Família and his other unique creations, are part of a visit to Spain's second-largest city. Modern art museums and chic shops call for attention, too. Barcelona's vibe stays lively well into the night, when you can linger over regional wine and cuisine at buzzing tapas bars.

Sea day

This is a day to relax, sit by the pool, or hop in hot tubs with new friends. We will always have a fun day when there is no port.

ARRIVAL 8:00 AM - Málaga

As you sail into Malaga you will notice what an idyllic setting the city enjoys on the famous Costa del Sol. To the east of this provincial capital, the coast along the region of La Axarquía is scattered with villages, farmland and sleepy fishing hamlets - the epitome of traditional rural Spain. To the west stretches a continuous city where the razzmatazz and bustle creates a colourful contrast that is easily recognisable as the Costa del Sol. Surrounding the region, the Penibética Mountains provide an attractive backdrop overlooking the lower terraced slopes which yield olives and almonds. This spectacular mountain chain shelters the province from cold northerly winds, giving it a reputation as a therapeutic and exotic place in which to escape from cold northern climes. Malaga is also the gateway to many of Andalusia's enchanting historic villages, towns and cities.

June 15 - Sunday

ARRIVAL 8:00 AM -*Cádiz

Believed to be the oldest town on the Iberian Peninsula, the Andalusian port of Cádiz enjoys a stunning location at the edge of a six-mile promontory. The town itself, with 3,000 years of history, is characterised by pretty white houses with balconies often adorned with colourful flowers. As you wander around be sure to take a stroll through the sizeable Plaza de España, with its large monument dedicated to the first Spanish constitution, which was signed here in 1812. Cádiz has two pleasant seafront promenades which boast fine views of the Atlantic Ocean, and has a lovely park, the Parque Genoves, located close to the sea with an open-air theatre and attractive palm garden. Also notable is the neo-Classical cathedral, capped by a golden dome.

June 16 - MondayARRIVAL 8:00 AM -*Casablanca

The original settlement formed on the site of Casablanca by the Berbers became the kingdom of Anfa, and during the 15th century harboured pirates who raided the Portuguese coast. In retaliation for the attacks, the Portuguese destroyed Anfa and founded the town they called Casa Branca (white house). They remained here until an earthquake in 1755 and the town was subsequently rebuilt by Mohammed ben Abdallah, whose legacy of mosques and houses can still be seen in the old Medina. Casablanca acquired its present-day name when the Spanish obtained special port privileges in 1781. The French landed here in 1907, later establishing a protectorate and modelling the town on the port of Marseilles. Today Casablanca is Morocco's largest city, its most significant port and the centre of commerce and industry. The city is a vibrant fusion of European, African and Arabian influences and its French colonial architecture and art deco buildings seamlessly blend in with the busy, colourful markets. Please note that vendors in the souks can be very persistent and eager to make a sale.

June 18 - WednesdayARRIVAL 10:30 AM -*Valencia

Valencia, Spain's third-largest municipality, is a proud city with a thriving nightlife and restaurant scene, quality museums, and spectacular contemporary architecture, juxtaposed with a thoroughly charming historic quarter, making it a popular destination year in year out. During the Civil War, it was the last seat of the Republican Loyalist government (1935–36), holding out against Franco's National forces until the country fell to 40 years of dictatorship. Today it represents the essence of contemporary Spain—daring design and architecture along with experimental cuisine—but remains deeply conservative and proud of its traditions. Though it faces the Mediterranean, Valencia's history and geography have been defined most significantly by the River Turia and the fertile huerta that surrounds it. The city has been fiercely contested ever since it was founded by the Greeks. El Cid captured Valencia from the Moors in 1094 and won his strangest victory here in 1099: he died in the battle, but his corpse was strapped into his saddle and so frightened the besieging Moors that it caused their complete defeat. In 1102 his widow, Jimena, was forced to return the city to Moorish rule; Jaime I finally drove them out in 1238. Modern Valencia was best known for its frequent disastrous floods until the River Turia was diverted to the south in the late 1950s. Since then the city has been on a steady course of urban beautification. The lovely bridges that once spanned the Turia look equally graceful spanning a wandering municipal park, and the spectacularly futuristic Ciutat de les Arts i les Ciències (City of Arts and Sciences), most of it designed by Valencia-born architect Santiago Calatrava, has at last created an exciting architectural link between this river town and the Mediterranean. If you're in Valencia, an excursion to Albufera Nature Park is a worthwhile day trip.

June 19 - Thursday

ARRIVAL 9:00 AM - Palma de Mallorca

If you look north of the cathedral (La Seu, or the seat of the bishopric, to Mallorcans) on a map of the city of Palma, you can see around the Plaça Santa Eulàlia a jumble of tiny streets that made up the earliest settlement. Farther out, a ring of wide boulevards traces the fortifications built by the Moors to defend the larger city that emerged by the 12th century. The zigzags mark the bastions that jutted out at regular intervals. By the end of the 19th century, most of the walls had been demolished; the only place where you can still see the massive defenses is at Ses Voltes, along the seafront west of the cathedral. A torrent (streambed) used to run through the middle of the old city, dry for most of the year but often a raging flood in the rainy season. In the 17th century it was diverted to the east, along the moat that ran outside the city walls. Two of Palma's main arteries, La Rambla and the Passeig d'es Born, now follow the stream's natural course. The traditional evening paseo (promenade) takes place on the Born. If you come to Palma by car, park in the garage beneath the Parc de la Mar (the ramp is just off the highway from the airport, as you reach the cathedral) and stroll along the park. Beside it run the huge bastions guarding the Almudaina Palace; the cathedral, golden and massive, rises beyond. Where you exit the garage, there's a ceramic mural by the late Catalan artist and Mallorca resident Joan Miró, facing the cathedral across the pool that runs the length of the park. If you begin early enough, a walk along the ramparts at Ses Voltes from the mirador beside the cathedral is spectacular. The first rays of the sun turn the upper pinnacles of La Seu bright gold and then begin to work their way down the sandstone walls. From the Parc de la Mar, follow Avinguda Antoni Maura past the steps to the palace. Just below the Plaça de la Reina, where the Passeig d'es Born begins, turn left on Carrer de la Boteria into the Plaça de la Llotja (if the Llotja itself is open, don't miss a chance to visit—it's the Mediterranean's finest Gothic-style civic building). From there stroll through the Plaça Drassana to the Museu d'Es Baluard, at the end of Carrer Sant Pere. Retrace your steps to Avinguda Antoni Maura. Walk up the Passeig d'es Born to Plaça Joan Carles I, then right on Avenida de La Unió.

June 20 - Friday

ARRIVAL 6:00 PM - Ibiza

Hedonistic and historic, Eivissa (Ibiza, in Castilian) is a city jam-packed with cafés, nightspots, and trendy shops; looming over it are the massive stone walls of Dalt Vila—the medieval city declared a UNESCO World Heritage site in 1999—and its Gothic cathedral. Squeezed between the north walls of the old city and the harbor is Sa Penya, a long labyrinth of stone-paved streets that offer some of the city's best offbeat shopping, snacking, and exploring. The tourist information office on Vara de Rey has a useful map of walks through the old city.

Dining Options

Get a lil taste of the (very) good life at sea

Warning: The content depicted on this page may cause increased appetite and intense desire to sail with us. Viewer discretion is advised.

p20+ eateries on us - From the Test Kitchen and our lively Korean BBQ, to our red hot Mexican and our incredible food market — all our eateries are included.

Menus by Michelin-starred chefs - World-class chefs like Brad Farmerie (of PUBLIC in NYC) and Matt Lambert (Test Kitchen) are a few of the minds behind our menus.

No buffets or big dining halls - With intimate spaces and diverse options to match your mood, we've ditched the one-big-dining-hall experience and the waste it creates by saying goodbye to buffets.

Late-night bites - Whether you feel like getting breakfast from our 24/7 diner or a late-night slice from The Pizza Place — if your schedule doesn't stop, nor does ours.

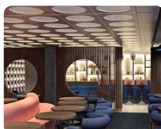

We're rethinking the way people dine on board.

Always bringing fresh ingredients and made-to-order cooking to the table, our foodie-approved eateries offer everything from food truck faves to ten-course feasts — perfect for crushing any craving.

The Wake

The Wake brings a modern twist to the classic chophouses of the mid-20th century. Once you've made your way down the grand staircase, you'll enter a world that harks back to the old steakhouse, three-martini-lunch days of Madison Avenue ad men. But, thankfully, with gender equality now and, you know, no cigar smoke.

Pink Agave

Inspired by Mexico's red-hot culture and sexy food scene, the experience at Pink Agave goes far beyond the usual taco. Shareable, social, and spicy — it transports you to the vibrant streets of Mexico City on an immersive odyssey of local cuisine. With the largest selection of tequila and mezcal at sea, and DJ beats to amp up the energy, we won't judge if you order one of everything... and end up dancing on tables by the end of the night.

Razzle Dazzle

The go-to option for cool and casual dining on board.

Boasting a bold interior and a daring new dinner menu, this happening spot offers our creative twist on some classic American comfort go-to's. Razzle Dazzle strikes a culinary sweet spot between balance and decadence, with a menu that skews partly toward veggie-conscious dishes, and partly toward meats, sweets, and gluttonous treats.

Razzle Dazzle by Night & Introducing Lucky Lotus

Bold flavours and creative twists continue, with an exciting new culinary journey on the horizon.

On Valiant Lady and Resilient Lady, Razzle Dazzle by Night serves up its renowned New American cuisine with elevated dishes and inventive spins on classic favourites. Starting December 2024, Scarlet Lady debuts Lucky Lotus, a Chinese-inspired gastronomic adventure brimming with vibrant flavours that reimagine traditional cuisine for the modern palate.

The Test Kitchen

Inspired by Escoffier's Ma Cuisine, its evolving, chef-driven tasting menus are presented as an ingredient list — but the cooking techniques, presentation, and flavors are explored in ways you've never seen. With innovative and experiential classes like Mixology and coffee labs, you'll try different methods and components for unique results.

Gunbae

If you're into hands-on meat grilling and soju drinking, our Korean BBQ is the perfect spot to do all that. Every meal at Gunbae begins with a Korean drinking game that includes a complimentary shot of soju. And since we all have that one friend who insists on being the meat master, this is the time to roast the master while the master roasts the meat. GUNBAE!

Extra Virgin

From shared antipasti to fresh pasta, in a culinary experience as rich in culture as it is in flavor. Try the grilled meats, taste the seafood, then get some homemade gelato from the Affogato cart. Top it off with a traditional Italian aperitivo to help get your night started... or a digestivo to make it complete.

The Social Club

From fairground staples like pretzels and hotdogs to modern takes on adult-inspired floats, The Social Club is perfect for playing a good game of shuffleboard, foosball, and more.

The Pizza Place

Here you have complete control over your pie — from the dough to the cheese, a little cracked pepper, a little ricotta, and any other topping you want... or you can just choose from the class menu.

Lick Me Till...Ice Cream

With six home (er... ship) made flavors to choose from, our scoop shop is the perfect stop for a mid-day or late-night snack. Vegan? Don't worry — we got you covered.

Sun Club Cafe

Inspired by one of the most iconic dishes of the Hawaiian islands, we offer marinated tuna, chicken and salmon over greens or rice bowls. Fresh, tasty and healthy, they're high in lean protein and healthy fats while giving you a sunny dose of veggies or whole grains.

The Dock House

An effortlessly elegant yet cozy counterpart to the view-focused scene outside. The Dock House delivers bright flavours with live acoustic sounds. Enjoy some flame-grilled skewers or bites like house-made pita and dips from the roving Mezze cart.

The Galley

Your go-to for a quick bite, meal, or pick-me-up throughout the day. Featuring a mix of shops and food-truck-style carts. The Galley boasts a dedicated bakery and pastry shop, a panini shop, a burger grill, a taco shack, a sushi bar with bento boxes, a noodle bar, a soup and salad stand, and a 24-hour American diner.

Noodle Around

Richly-flavored masterpieces for which Chinatown's Shinka has won several awards, they found a new home in The Galley, snuggled between the udon soup specials on Noddle Around's slurp-worthy menu.

Bento Baby

Head to The Galley and start your day with a Japanese breakfast, or end it with a bento box. Or actually, have a bento box for lunch, too (because you can do that, here).

The Sweet Side

The Sweet Side of The Galley houses pastries in the morning (for the sweet-toothed breakfast lovers among us) and desserts later on. It's a non stop sweet fest, so leave your rude friends by the pool.

The Dock

Featuring the same Mediterranean-inspired menu as its indoor counterpart. The Dock brings you the ultimate in lounging with the wind in your hair and the sun on your face.

Well Bread

Well Bread has fans, and we call them "Bread Heads". So make a little bread head and grab a pastry for breakfast or a flatbread in the afternoon or evening down at The Galley.

Diner & Dash

This is our 24-hours-a-day classic American diner grub located in the Galley. Craving an egg and bacon dish in the morning? BLT at lunch? Chicken and potatoes for dinner? You're in luck, because this is the classic diner fare of your middle-American dreams.

Burger Bar

All day we burger. Breakfast burgers in the morning. Lunch burgers in the afternoon. Dinner burgers in the evening. And Impossible burgers for the plant-based eaters. Burgers. Burgers. Burgers. Straight up.

Hot off the Press

From serving breakfast-themed sandwiches and toasties in the morning to afternoon and evening-inspired sandwiches later on - something's always being toasted in The Galley.

Let's Taco Bout It

Located in The Galley, this taco spot takes you straight to the food truck-lined streets of Austin featuring breakfast burritos in the morning, and vegetarian and meat-based tacos in the afternoon and evening.

The Daily Mix

This healthy joint in The Galley features yogurt and oatmeal dishes for breakfast and turns to soups and salads in the afternoon and evening. So if you're looking to mix it up in a healthy way, you know where to go.

ShipEats

The solution for midnight cravings. Or 3 am cravings. Whenever you get them, really.

Forget cold, soggy dishes covered in plastic wrap that'll end up being tossed away. We cater far more than just food — we curate an elevated experience. Our 24-hour food delivery service is just a tap on your Virgin Voyages app away.
