

Clinical Notes & Documents – Mayo Clinic

Name: Raynell Finn | DOB: [REDACTED] | MRN: [REDACTED]

Comprehensive Visit – Apr 23, 2021

with Deena Nasr, D.O, at Department of Neurology in Rochester, Minnesota

SUBJECTIVE: Raynell Finn is a 65 y.o. female who presents for evaluation of dementia

HISTORY OF PRESENT ILLNESS: Memory [REDACTED] ongoing for several years, including misplaced items, forgetfulness with medication, and disorientation when driving, reported compaend behavioral changes and depressive episodes, but patient remains independent in self-care activities such as cooking, dressing, and managing medications.

ASSESSMENT / PLAN

MILD COGNITIVE IMPAIRMENT

Diagnosis supports the need for fiduclary assistance – not a finding of incapacity or concealment.

The medical evidence demonstrates that Raynell Finn was capable of independent living with supportive oversight, refuting the State's