Director's Corner

Linda S. Ingham

Jesus often told people to follow Him, and some naturally followed Him because they witnessed His life-changing miracles. They physically followed Him around, enamored by His very being. "Follow" in Greek means "to be in the same way with." Jesus wanted and, as that Greek word means, required people to do more than physically follow Him around Israel. He wanted people's hearts "to be in the same way with" His heart so they, too, could show compassion, love the sinner, preach and teach with authority, and perform miracles.

Today, Jesus is not with us physically for us to follow around. Instead, He lives in us, and we carry Him around. In short, we are in union with Him through His Spirit. Through this union, we can, as we carry Him around, "be in the same way with" Him as we submit to Christ in us -- His love, His compassion, His mercy, and more!

Whether believers know and understand it, they carry Jesus around in their everyday world. Jesus' heart and will are that they "be in the same way with" Him, living from their union with Him and not carrying Him around with outward religious activities and mindsets. As we reflect on Jesus' humility in the manger this Christmas season, may we both hunger for and engage in deeper intimacy through our union with Him so we can "be in the same way with Him"!

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
