

Service Delivery Models

The maturity of the client-consulting firm relationship can be measured by the level of risk and responsibility each is willing to take during an engagement. Our client solutions and services span this continuum.

Staff Augmentation

We source, recruit, and place one or more contract resources who meet skill requirements you provide. You retain responsibility for day-to-day contractor work assignments and outcomes.

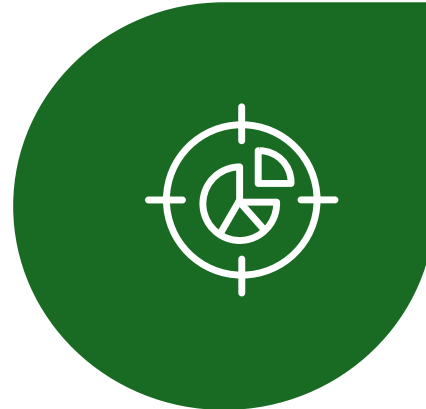

Managed Services

Working to shared SLAs, we take on defined, day-to-day functions (e.g., support, maintenance, operations) to help you improve operations and lower cost.

Strategic Consulting

We provide one or more practice-based subject matter experts to advise you – usually short-term – on strategic planning and decision making. You remain primarily responsible for decisions and outcome.

SOW Based Projects

We assume end-to-end project responsibility and provide deliverables to a defined goal, taking full responsibility for staffing, managing, and delivering work products to meet your stated objectives
