

Captions, Transcripts and your Audience on Zoom

You are right where you are supposed to be. You don't need to be a tech expert. Forget about the guilt and the worry that you do not have all the answers, we can get started.

Here's what we'll do together:

- We will understand why captions are important for you, your business and your audience.
- We will address specific myths that stand in the way of setting them up.
- We will set up an action plan to get your captions set on zoom and sharing the quick fix!.
- There is no shame in the game! This is an inclusive space!

Save your seat using the form on the right, show up for the short and valuable workshop and kick your course into high gear.
