5 THINGS YOU DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT FOLSOM'S MAYOR, STEVE MIKLOS

The Mayor at July's Rodeo Kick-Off

Folsom's Mayor, Steve Miklos, is one busy man. We all know he's busy overseeing the city of Folsom, but did you also know that this former Southern California resident also runs his own business? Yep, it's true! He started Bentley Mortgage in 1987. And, here are five more things that you didn't know about Steve Miklos:

- 1 He's a lifesaver, literally! In his prior life, he was a certified paramedic and firefighter. Guess how many lives he saved as a member of the Burbank City Fire Department? Ready? Answer is: More than 2,000!
- 2 Steve's first car was a '57 Pontiac Starchief. Steve and his brother, Terry, bought this classic for a mere $115 in 1973. They tricked it out and turned it into the ultimate vehicle to get to the surf; hence, they dubbed it the "Surf Mobile."
- 3 Hail to the chief! Steve is a natural born leader. In fact, when he was in jr. high school, he was the class president.
- 4 "Oh Mickey, you're so fine, you blow my mind!" Yep, when Steve was in paramedic school, that popular tune came out and Steve was dubbed with the nickname, "Mickey."
- 5 Rock on! Back in middle school, Steve and his band, 'No Way Out' – which included his brother, Terry, and a drummer – won the school's talent show...not once, but twice. These days, Steve's music of choice that he continues to play on the guitar is Rock & Roll and Blues; opening with classics like "Johnny B. Goode," and from legends such as The Eagles and of course, The Beatles.

Thank you Mr. Mayor, for sharing these great stories with us!
