Sundance Ski and Sports

404 E. Bidwell Street, Folsom

What do skis and bikinis have in common? You don't often see the two together (except on cheesy commercials) but you will find them at Sundance Ski and Sports. Owner Al Namanny moved his store from Citrus Heights to Folsom in November 2003. He chose Folsom for several reasons, the most notable being that he found that 80% of his customers were already coming from this area, and from even further east. He has also been a Folsom resident for nine years. When the space on East Bidwell between Market and Rumsey became available, there was an added bonus - there was enough room for his wife to open her dream store, Liberty Star Quilts, right next door!

During the winter months, Sundance Ski and Sports focuses on skis, snowboards, clothing and equipment, while in the summer-time, swimsuits, outdoor sportswear and sandals take over. I am not a "snow bunny," but I immediately checked out their bathing suits left over from last summer. They had such a cute selection (I found one I must have), that I cannot even fathom what will be available when they restock with the current lines for this summer.

They also offer tuning and repair services for skis and boards. By hand finishing their work, their service provides a better edge with more precision. Being a specialty store, they are set apart from their competition. They want their customers to "get the right stuff to maximize their enjoyment and fun in whatever they do." They believe that "happy feet make happy skiers," and will do everything they can to implement that motto through proper boot fitting and stretching.

So, whether you want to "catch some rays" or "bust some huge air," check out Sundance Ski and Sports for a great selection of summer and winter gear!
