

RIGHT HAND PRINT & APPAREL

Quality you feel. A handshake that's real.

NOTICE REGARDING SALES TAX REQUIREMENTS

To all our valued customers and partners,

Please be advised that in accordance with state tax regulations, Right Hand Print & Apparel is required to collect applicable sales tax on all orders.

Sales tax will be automatically applied to your invoice total unless a valid, fully executed Sales Tax Exemption Certificate or Resale License is provided to us prior to or at the time of order placement.

As part of our commitment to transparent business practices, please keep the following guidelines in mind:

Exemption Guidelines & Compliance:

- Submission Timing: Tax exemption documentation must be on file before production begins. We cannot retroactively refund sales tax once an order has been processed and invoiced.
- Document Validity: The documentation provided must match the legal entity name listed on your order or account profile.
- Blanket Certificates: If you maintain an ongoing tax-exempt status with us, we can keep a "blanket certificate" on file for future recurring orders, provided it remains legally valid and up to date.

We appreciate your cooperation and understanding as we maintain strict compliance with state regulatory standards. If you need to submit your form or have any questions regarding your account status, please reach out directly so we can ensure your paperwork is perfectly squared away.

Thank you for your business and for partnering with us!
