

ABOUT THE EXPERIENCE

Before your wedding, I meet with you to discuss your vision and the moment you'd like captured. On your wedding day, I arrive up to three hours early to prepare your canvas and begin building the scene. As your celebration unfolds, I paint live for your guests, engaging in conversation and adding to the atmosphere of your special day. Afterward, I bring your painting back to my studio, where I refine the details and finish it with a protective coating.

From start to finish, a live wedding painting from Artsea Studio is an investment in a memorable and unique experience for your guests and a priceless keepsake for you.

Send me an email at theartseastudio@gmail.com with your wedding date to start planning your live painting experience.
