

April 7 was the day to stop by Evil Twin Custom Cycle in Mesa for their Customer Appreciation Party. From 10a-5pm there was free food & drinkables. There was music and much camaraderie to enjoy.

This was the first party since Chase Jorgensen became owner of Evil Twin. He seems to be settling in well.

In keeping with the chaos of Bike Week, Chase & Clayton were at the store during the party; while Adam manned the Evil Twin Custom Cycles booth up in Cave Creek.

Robert & his fellow Unknown Associates provided the music for the day.

Vendors included Phoenix Motor Leathers, with their mobile store filled with goodies. Drag Specialties rep Greg Matter had new headlight designs as part of his display. Fat Daddy's Beef Jerky had jerky and local honey available. Evil Twin hosted the free lunch, with Fat Daddy Nick at his hot dog cart cooking & serving. Family Affair Apparel was selling flannels & other apparel. Chase, Clayton, and the ET crew appreciate them all coming out to set up.

The shop's office has become a tattoo booth, with artist Tod Eggmann slinging the ink. During the event, you could get an Evil Twin logo tattoo for free. Evil Twin Custom Ink is open 11a-8p Thursday-Saturday & by appointment Sun-Wednesday. Phone number is same as the shop. Call or stop by for an appointment or with questions.

The raffle table had some cool stuff up for grabs, including apparel, leather goods, a helmet, a ScalaRider Bluetooth headset, a set of HD 'on the rocks' glasses, various adult beverages, and HD ice cube trays. There were gift certificates for shop labor, oil changes, bike detailing, and tattoo work. AND if you marked your tickets with your name & phone #, they'd call you if you won. Neat!

Shawn Dostler was the winner of the 50/50 raffle and donated back the winnings.

Monies collected this day went toward the Ride For Life event taking place the following weekend, April 14 ~ to benefit Jocelyn Tangitau Foundation, Inc. We hope to bring you news of that event as well.

Thanks go out from Evil Twin to Robert Shinn, the Unknown Associates, all the vendors, and everyone who came out and supported the event. "It was a great time!"

This was a good place to stop in along our Bike Week travels & we're glad we did. We saw some old friends, met some new people, and had a good visit.
