

In Memory of Flaky Fred

February 23, 1946 ~
July 7, 2006

We met Flaky Fred when Sidekick Cathy came on board to write for us, back in October 2000. At that time we knew him mostly as Sidekick's "Main-kick" -- her sweetheart and pilot.

Over the years he became more active in covering events with Sidekick, adding his photography talents to the team. But he enjoyed and encouraged her place in the spotlight.

There are many people out there who know and love Flaky. He will be missed by so many.

He could be the life of a party. He had quite a sense of humor... And there are enough 'Flaky stories' out there to fill many pages, maybe even a book.

But in thinking over our time with Flaky, our strongest memory of him is observing his pride in Sidekick as they have traveled their path together.

You'll always be remembered.
