Let's end the games in Pierre

Throughout my business career, I learned the value of putting your ego aside, building consensus, and producing results. Nothing gets done when people blindly put their own agendas first.

In Pierre for far too long, politicians have been playing games with your tax dollars, pursuing purposely divisive legislation that doesn't do a thing to help grow South Dakota's economy. We need legislators who aren't trying to gain favor with the extreme right or left. We need public servants willing to meet in the middle to do what's best for all South Dakotans.

My CEO experiences at LodgeNet and the Washington Pavilion prepared me to represent you with the focus and seriousness you deserve. I'll help put an end to the games in Pierre and will:

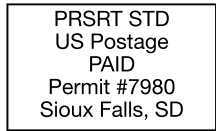

Work with both Republicans and Democrats on creative funding for K - 12 schools, universities and tech schools. The funding is there within our existing budget. Education just needs to be a priority.

Lead efforts to develop smart growth initiatives from workforce development to affordable housing, adding good jobs and expanding our businesses.

That's what I did over the last four decades in the private sector, and it's the experience I'll put to work for you in state government.
