/ Our Vision

- As the Nashville metro area continues to grow by leaps and bounds, the Diocese of Nashville, with positive feasibility study results in hand, has embarked on a collaborative effort with area parishes to bring the first faith-based regional academic campus to the rolling hills of Nolensville, Tennessee.
- Our world today can seem unsettled and chaotic. Our children need a safe environment to experience an innovative Catholic education that is affordable and available to residents in this part of our beautiful county, where no options exist today.

Demographic data suggests that in addition to the growth experienced in Williamson County over the past 10 years, population overall in Williamson County is projected to continue increasing through 2040 by almost 120%

34%

- Given this level of anticipated growth together with the increasingly crowded public school system and the lack of Catholic school options in the area, or any independent private school option, the Diocese of Nashville recognized an extraordinary opportunity to serve our current families on a campus that is perfectly suited to expand and evolve alongside the rapidly growing community.
