

WHERE VILLAGES
LEARN, EXPLORE & GROW

Build a Future. DONATE TECHNOLOGY!

HELP EQUIP THE NEXT GENERATION OF INNOVATORS

That old laptop sitting in your closet could become the spark that inspires a future engineer, programmer, entrepreneur, or inventor.

We're launching a new STEM program at It Take a Village Academy for the 2026–2027 school year. Starting this fall, I'll be teaching students the fundamentals of computer hardware and coding — giving them hands-on experience with the technology that shapes so much of their world.

To make this program possible, I'm reaching out to see if you might have any tablets, laptops, or desktops sitting unused that you'd be willing to donate. Whether they're a generation or two behind, no longer needed, or just taking up space in a closet, these devices could become powerful learning tools in a student's hands.

I believe that giving kids early, real exposure to technology — not just how to use it, but how to understand and build with it — sets them up with skills that will serve them for a lifetime. Your donation would go directly toward that goal, and toward students who are excited to learn.

If you have any devices to give, or know someone who might, I'd love to hear from you. Thank you for taking the time to consider this — it means more than you know.
