

Thank you to our community

Once again, we would like to acknowledge what a wonderful community we live in. During this time of uncertainty, it is imperative that we are able to provide shelter and support for our victims of domestic violence. With people being asked to shelter at home, it may not be the safest place for someone experiencing domestic violence. We are here for them 24/7 and you, as a community, have been there for us by showing your ongoing generosity of donating items from our immediate needs list. We greatly appreciate every donation. You can find the list on our website (under the Shelter Needs page) and also in the Chronicle every week.

Again, thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your continued support.

Domestic violence in the age of coronavirus: What happens when you're stuck at home, but home isn't safe?

Alia E. Dastagir

"If you are planning to reach out, please don't let COVID-19 prevent you from doing that... Domestic violence shelters and programs are creatively and safely doing their best to make sure that they are there for survivors."

Coaching boys into men

Shout out to Crystal River High School for being the first school in Citrus county to get trained on our Coaching Boys Into Men Program. Athletic coaches play an extremely influential and unique role in the lives of young men. Because of these relationships, coaches are poised to positively influence how young men think and behave, both on and off the field. Coaching Boys Into Men (CBIM) is the only evidence-based prevention program that trains and motivates high school coaches to teach their young male athletes healthy relationship skills and that violence never equals strength. Learn more at www.coachescorner.org. If you want your coaching staff to receive free training just give us a call 352-344-8111 and ask for Prevention Advocate Jess.

Teen Town Hall

We had another amazing day at the teen town hall with our local teens working on solutions to the issues they face. Our violence group focused on bringing awareness to teens about dating and domestic violence by creating a video and survey.
