Helping Hands in a Time of Need

Support is everything!

Support is everything, and our community continues to show us that they are by our side every step of the way to offer that helping hand, that extra push, that support! Without our community partners, we would not be able to provide a safe and supportive environment for our clients. We could not give them the encouragement and education they need to move forward. Because of our community, we are able to instill the confidence and self-esteem in our clients that they need to see that there are, indeed, infinite possibilities.

Thanks to all of you who reached out and donated, held events, or just provided support to CASA through these very trying times. Together we can make a change!
