Thank you for helping change the life of a child with special needs!

“When the kids get the opportunity to actually fly an airplane, they realize they can do anything they want to. All limits are self-imposed. Flying is a life-long achievement.”

Challenge Air For Kids and Friends

At Challenge Air, we empower kids and youth with special needs through the life-changing experience of flight.

Our nationwide Fly Days bring together pilots, volunteers, and families for unforgettable adventures in the sky.

Help Us Keep Flying Kids with Special Needs

Rick Amber created Challenge Air over 30 years ago to help children with special needs realize that physical and social limitations can be overcome. Rick's dream was to fly one million children. We have currently shared the gift of flight with over 40,000+ kids and their families. Your donation will help keep Rick's dream alive!

Fly Day Programs

At Challenge Air we believe that children with special needs must be provided with opportunities to expand their individual perspective and renew their faith in themselves.

Challenge Air hosts nationwide, well-organized, community-driven programs, called "Fly Days", where over 125 children with special needs, 150 ground crew volunteers and 20 volunteer pilots come together to provide a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. The gift of flight!

Challenge Air's mission reflects the life-changing impact the flight experience has on children, families, donors, sponsors and the community as a whole.

How to Get Involved

FLY WITH US

If you are a pilot, are at least 21 years old and have 350 flight hours (total time), consider donating your time, aircraft and fuel at one of our Fly Days.

VOLUNTEER

Share your time, talent, and heart at a local Fly Day.

DONATE

Each Fly Day costs around $25,000 to host, but it's completely free for participating families. Your support helps make these unforgettable experiences possible.

For more information, please call (214) 351-3353 or visit the website ChallengeAir.org.
