CONFERENCE DESCRIPTION

The California Mental Health Advocates for Children & Youth conference is the most recognized and longest-standing conference in the state of California focused upon the social, emotional and behavioral health of children, youth and their families. Our annual conference is one of the state's most powerful events for those interested in advocating and promoting the policies, programs, and practices that enhance the well-being of vulnerable children, youth and families.

This year, more than ever, we are committed to actively promoting optimism, unity, and change, creating and maintaining partnerships, and bettering ourselves and our communities. We are actively focused on moving that energy from the conference into the world through CMHACY's mission. We want to give attendees a toolbox of information to takeaway when they leave the conference. Our goal to provide an action-driven, positive, community-focused gathering that refreshes and energizes us in our work.

EDUCATIONAL GOALS

The theme of the 2023 conference is "Committing to mobilizing hope and advocacy for communities and youth: Elevating voices, influencing progress". The conference will explore how to actively promote optimism, unity, and change, creating and maintaining partnerships, and bettering ourselves and our communities. Conference participants will participate in sessions that include presenters and attendees from across child and family service sectors. Attendees will receive information to apply in their mental health advocacy and renew commitments to action-driven, positive, community-focused work.

MEASURABLE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the end of this conference participants will be able to: (1) Identify three ways to promote the well-being of children, youth, and families; (2) List three ways to effectively advocate for children, youth, and families; and (3) Describe three strategies to reduce systemic barriers to equity and access to mental health services.
