Regina Agren, FEI trainer, is located in Castle Rock, Washington. In her early career Regina was a working student for George Williams, Steffen Peters and Hubert Rohrer. She has also studied extensively with Charles de Kunffy, Bettina Drummond and Lilo Fore. Her accomplishments include multiple USDF Horse of the Year Awards, USDF Gold Medalist, extensive Regional Championships and invitation and participation at the USDF/USEF National Young Horse Development Program completing at the 2010 & 2012 and qualifying for the 2016 Markel Young Horse Finals at Lamplight. As a young rider competing in the North American Young Riders Finals on her off the track thoroughbred, Blue, that she trained herself up through the levels.

Regina has a strong belief in fair and appropriate development of her horses. Training is with attention to holistic care and taking the time to meet each horse with individual focus and training program. The long-term goal is a happy willing partner that will remain sound for the level of work that they achieve. As a result, many of the horses that she has trained over the years have found homes with her students and have worked well into their retirement years. Teaching has a special place in Regina's heart as she truly finds joy helping others learn, from basics to the upper levels she has helped her students find their success. Outside of her equine endeavors, you can find Regina spending time with her husband Brian and her son Isaac. As a family they enjoy spending time together camping, hiking, and gardening.
