

Business Spotlight: KC Manufacturing – Shaping the Future of Industry in Oklahoma

In the heart of Ponca City, Oklahoma, a company has been quietly driving innovation and economic growth for nearly three decades. KC Manufacturing, founded by Kirk Brown in 1996, stands as a testament to the enduring spirit of Oklahoma's manufacturing sector.

A Legacy of Excellence

Kirk Brown established KC Manufacturing in 1996, bringing with him a vision to create a company that could meet a wide array of industrial needs. Over the years, the company has built a reputation for quality, reliability, and adaptability in a competitive market.

Location and Services

Located at 1025 N Waverley, Ponca City, OK 74601, KC Manufacturing offers a comprehensive suite of services. Specializing in plastic injection molding, the company also boasts full CNC milling and turning capabilities, light fabrication, and high-volume production of a diverse range of products. This versatility has made KC Manufacturing a go-to partner for businesses seeking precision and efficiency.

Looking Ahead: Automation and Expansion

When asked about the future, Kirk Brown is optimistic and forward-thinking. "Expansion along with heavy automation," he says, outlining a path that will not only increase capacity but also enhance productivity and quality. By embracing advanced technologies, KC Manufacturing is positioning itself to meet the evolving demands of the industry while maintaining its commitment to excellence.

Championing Rural Development

KC Manufacturing is more than just a business—it's a catalyst for rural development. "We're putting manufacturing on the map for Ponca City," Brown explains. By offering better-paying jobs and creating career opportunities for locals, the company is helping to drive economic growth and improve quality of life in the region. Their efforts underscore the vital role that manufacturing plays in sustaining and revitalizing rural communities across Oklahoma.
