

Mastermind members embarking on a new journey with the help of Georgia Tech students through new partnership with Americans Thrive

September 6th, marked an unprecedented milestone for three businesses in the Elevating Black Mastermind. Through a partnership with Dr. Susan Simmons-Stevenson from Americans Thrive we presented an opportunity for businesses to work with students from Georgia Tech University to help them accelerate their business growth. The SeaMoss Depot, Gift TV, and She Is The Village embarked on their journey to meet their students, allowing them to begin the process together.

Americans Thrive presented this opportunity for our members after a successful pilot program with the ATL Airport Chamber. Dr. Simmons-Stevenson took the time to meet with our members learning about their initiatives before bringing in the professor. They selected three amazing businesses from our Elevating Black Mastermind community, which serves as a global referral network for entrepreneurs, business owners, and companies.

She Is The Village is a non profit organization that helps support single mothers with food, transportation, and mental health services. Gift TV is the Global Independent Filmmakers Tribe channel on Roku TV with all sorts of content. The SeaMoss Depot is a leader in the health and wellness industry with more SeaMoss Flavors than Baskin Robbins.

Americans Thrive is an amazing leader in the community impacting business owners and providing opportunities for students. This is the type of collaboration and leadership that our Mastermind members provide in the community. We look forward to sharing more success stories from this groundbreaking partnership.

If you want to get in touch with Americans Thrive please email Dr. Susan Simmons-Stevenson at stevenson@americansthive.com.

ELEVATING BLACK

Join Us
Scan Here

