

Push Away

Verse

I'll let you in and get a little close; but that's much too close for me
I'll kiss you, feel you, and let you in; but in time, I'll push you away again. Away again
When the cycle seems to end, is when it slams me to the floor; like a flower refusing to bloom.
And just like that, I feel you no more. I feel you no more.

Chorus

Innocence is the only feeling; I'm always searching for an empty meaning.
And all these thoughts, they swim inside my head.
I saw you laughing while I was dreaming; so I prayed to God while kneeling.
I never thought you heard a word, I said.

Verse #2

I get up time and time my friend; only to play the game again.
I'm captivated by the thrill; emancipation is my only will. My only will
It's my story as I go; unfolding like a Broadway show; only without a curtain call.
I'm just a lonely actor without a single line; I need a line.

Chorus #2

I'm only searching for a life thereafter; an empty space, filled with laughter
Or a quiet place to rest my head.
I'm coming home in the morning after
To feel your love and if it really matters; don't push away from me again

Break

Outro

I got an answer just in time.
I almost stepped outside my life
All I wanted was peace of mind
Just a little peace of mind
