ATOMIC CABARET 2025 TOUR

The Science and Madness of The Bomb from Trinity to Trident, starring Lynda Williams, the Physics Chanteuse

Atomic Cabaret is a one-woman science-political musical about the physics, history, and existential threat of nuclear weapons starring Lynda Williams, physicist and activist also known as The Physics Chanteuse. The show fuses science, satire, original songs, and storytelling with projected scientific and archival visuals to create a unique, immersive cabaret experience. It commemorates the 80th anniversary of the U.S. bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki and is on a multi-city tour across England, Scotland, North Ireland and Belgium with stops in Belfast, Leeds, London, the Ghent Festival, the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, Glasgow, and the Durham and Dundee Fringe Festivals. Tour details and ticket info below.

"Old-fashioned agitprop in the seductive guise of a nightclub floor show. — British Theatre Guide

"Bette Midler meets Carl Sagan!" — NY Times

About Atomic Cabaret

Atomic Cabaret includes original songs in a variety of genres—from ballads to punk—covering topics ranging from the physics of fission and fusion to the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons (TPNW). Songs like "Nuclear Winter," "Depleted Uranium" and "Alpha, Beta, Gamma" break down complex science or deliver sharp social commentary. With humor and hope, the show takes aim at warmongers, bomb makers, and war profiteers—and the devastating human and environmental cost of so-called "nuclear deterrence." Atomic Cabaret reminds us that we are not alone—and that with art, science, and solidarity, we can chart a new course for the planet.

About the Artist

Lynda Williams is a physicist, activist, and performance artist based in Hawaii. As The Physics Chanteuse she has written and performed original science cabarets for scientists at CERN, NASA, the American Physical Society, KipFest at Caltech, Stephen Hawking's birthday bash, and for the public at the US Science Festival, the Swedish Science Festival, and many others. Her work has been featured in the New York Times, LA Times, Scientific American, People Magazine, and on NPR. Lynda is also a published writer on nuclear and environmental issues. ## INSAP XIII Performance in Belfast

Lynda will also perform at The 13th International Conference on the Inspiration of Astronomical Phenomena \(INSAP XIII\) in Belfast, debuting a new song, Heartbeat of the Universe, for Dame Jocelyn Bell Burnell, who will be in attendance. The piece will be built around the acoustic rhythm of a real pulsar—transposed from radio waves into sound, echoing the signal she first discovered. Lynda has previously experimented with turning scientific and astronomical data into music, most notably transforming gravitational wave "chirps" into the song Black Hole Disco, which she premiered at KipFest, a celebration for Nobel laureate Kip Thorne.

Press & Quotes for Atomic Cabaret

British Theater Guide Review of Belfast Show by Michael Quinn:

"If the bastard child of Dr Strangelove and Laurie Anderson sounds like your idea of a good night out, then Atomic Cabaret may be the show for you."

"Williams is a born communicator with a show that's as brainy as it is ballsy."

"An hour in her company is as instructive as it is invigorating."

"With punkish energy, sly satire and a gift for clarity, Williams fuses physics and polemic into a uniquely persuasive package."

"It's an ambitious show — witty, raw and thought-provoking."

"Her show is a smart, scabrous, sometimes scatty rebuttal to the propaganda of deterrence and the wilful ignorance of the arms race."

"It's part agitprop, part TED talk, part end-of-the-pier cabaret."
