

To make it in
this business...

...you gotta have
a partner with
a cutting edge.

Engineering partners who can move mountains.

Talk about Hollywood story lines. These guys had a blockbuster vision to develop two eight-mile subway tunnels through the heart of a Santa Monica mountain rock formation. They put their heads together and started thinking. They decided to rework 25-year-old tunnel boring machines with Rexroth hydraulics to increase torque by 150% and add variable speed drive. The result is an earth shattering success for Construction & Tunneling Services. When you need an action hero kind of edge, talk to the people whose business it is to move mountains.
