I am the Clinical Supervisor for the Door of Hope Counselling Clinic. I am a member of the Canadian Professional Counselling Association (CPCA), located in Vernon, BC. in which I have the following credentials:

1. Registered Professional Counsellor (RPC).
2. Master Practitioner in Clinical Counselling Supervisor (MPCC-S).

I supervise Diploma and Master's Level Counsellors in their internship process to obtain their credentials and licensing with their prospective counselling associations. I also provide Clinical Consultation on an "as needed" basis to other Mental Healthcare Professionals / Colleagues regarding a particular matter and problem.

In my professional practice, I employ a variety of techniques from various counselling models and therapies, such as, but not limited to:

1. Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT);
2. Solution-Focused Therapy;
3. Marriage and Family Therapy;
4. Gestalt Therapy;
5. Group Therapy;
6. Psychoanalytical Therapy.
7. Narrative Therapy
8. Existential Therapy

For over 18 years, I have employed a variety of techniques from various counselling models and informed therapies. I have assisted individuals, couples, families and groups of clients from diverse cultural, social economic and religious background to address and work on the following issues, which include, but not limited to:

- Anxiety
- PTSD
- Depression
- OCD
- Anger management
- Sexual abuse

- Sexual addiction
- Substance abuse and addictive thinking and behaviours
- Chronic grief and bereavement
- Overcome and achieve inner healing from past traumas and experiences
- Identify and work through personal, relational, premarital, and marital and family conflicts.

In my personal and professional career and practice, I have always had a strong commitment to social justice and have demonstrated a respect for individual differences, including those related to age, gender, race, ethnicity, culture, religion, disability, and social economic status. I am a woman of integrity whose personal life and work is congruent with my values.
