

YOUR GUIDE TO SUCCESS IN THE PRECAST CONCRETE INDUSTRY WITH INTERIM AND FRACTIONAL EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP

In the precast concrete manufacturing industry, leadership isn't an option - it's a necessity. Truliance Consulting offers bespoke interim and fractional executive services, providing unparalleled leadership solutions when you need them most.

Interim Executive Services

Facing a leadership transition or priming for expansion? We step in to fill the gap, offering stability and strategic vision as an interim CEO, President, COO, or VP of Operations. Our expertise ensures continuity and confidence, navigating the complex challenges until a permanent executive takes the helm.

Fractional Executive Services

For growing businesses, our fractional services provide flexible, high-level operational leadership that adapts to your needs. As a part-time addition to your team, we help navigate operational complexities, institute continuous improvement programs, develop leadership, while implementing measurements for success propelling your growth until full-time support is needed.

Our Edge

Deep-rooted industry experience. With 25 years as an owner and CEO of an architectural precast plant, consultant in the precast industry, and a decade of industry board service, we bring unmatched knowledge and insights, and experience. In both roles, we are beneficial for many reasons:

- 1 Stabilize your organization, setting in motion reliable patterns for future leaders, facilitating the achievement of your long-term goals.
- 2 Provide an objective assessment of current governance, organizational behaviors, and operations going on within the organization.
- 3 Set immediate priorities to bridge the gap in your organization, ensuring the strength of your foundation as you scale.
- 4 Mentor and empower your leadership team, and staff, crafting short-term strategies with a long-term impact, fostering a culture of sustainable success.

WE DON'T JUST FILL A ROLE – WE ADD VALUE.

Leveraging our industry knowledge to optimize operations, increase profitability, and foster a culture of continuous improvement, we offer a leadership legacy that understands the industry's intricacies and guides its future. We're a strategic partner guiding you through transitions and growth phases with precision, confidence, and foresight. Trust us to embody your vision, lead your team, and navigate the industry's complexities.
