

Malcolm X taught people to be proud of who they are and to stand strong for their rights. He spoke with passion about building dignity, respect, and unity.