BGW Group of Companies (2012 - 2018)

I began working for the BGW Group of Companies in October 2011. I worked as a contractor for six months before being employed full-time in April, 2012.

Following is some information about the company.

In 1982 CNW Electrical was purchased as the first company in what has become the BGW Group. Electrical and plumbing wholesale businesses are core to the organisation. The BGW Group supplies goods and services to a diverse array of industry and customer sectors. In addition to wholesaling, BGW have assembled a unique group of specialist supply and services companies. Each business operates under its own brand but all work together to share expertise and support services, to leverage opportunities for growth, and to maximise efficiencies through collective buying power. Some of the major companies are: CNW Electrical Wholesale, Samios Plumbing Supplies, Sherriff Electrical Wholesale, CNW Energy, BGW Technologies, Direct Wholesale, Specialist Electrical Solutions, Norfoam and Cablemakers.

The Electrical Experts

Experience Backed By Financial Strength and Integrity

As experts in electrical materials management CNW provides quality, cost-effective solutions backed by domain knowledge and excellent service. Our major project experience is unparalleled and our excellence in project delivery has seen some of the world's biggest companies grant us blanket supply agreements for the entire electrical category. Under these agreements we standardise supply across countries, projects and sites.

As part of BGW Group, a diversified $800 million Australian wholesaling business, CNW has the financial strength and global buying power to manage materials for the world's largest projects. This strength and scale does not come at the cost of agility - CNW's flat management structure enables us to rapidly respond to client and project requirements.

Integrity is the key to consistently achieving responsible and sustainable project outcomes. CNW is proud of our reputation for being fair and reliable and we value our long-term relationships with suppliers, customers, staff and communities.

ASSEMBLY AND KITTING - ROY HILL MINE

The Roy Hill development is remote and required delivery to sites dispersed over 360km. CNW managed four supply packages including specialised lighting structures and cabling. CNW received bulk supplies centrally then repacked and labelled boxes prior to shipping with all documentation and certification. Pre-wiring and assembling lighting poles saved considerable time and money.

DOCUMENTATION AND QUALITY CONTROL - PRELUDE FLOATING LNG

Prelude is the world's largest offshore facility. CNW supplied portable lighting and temporary power solutions. All components were sourced, assembled, tested, tagged, and supplied to site with strict quality control and documentation compliant to international safety standards. Products were packaged, labelled and dispatched to NT and then forwarded to Prelude off the WA coast.

Your Global Partner and Local Expert

World's Best Project Materials Management Solutions

CNW has the warehousing and supply chain systems and technical knowledge to develop a tailored solution to meet your specific goals, whether that's simplifying procurement, automating production or controlling energy use. We also have extensive experience working with EPC contractors, engineering companies and joint venture partners on some of the world's largest industrial, commercial, and infrastructure projects.

We have developed close partnerships with the world's leading manufacturers to ensure reliable supply, an extensive range of quality products, and the best pricing. We are able to proactively identify obsolescence risks and provide expert substitution without compromising quality or the project schedule.

Our Asian-based business, Wholesale Electric Asia (WEA), combines the local expertise and global resources of three of the world's largest independent electrical wholesalers: RAM Electrical Group Ltd (UK), Wholesale Electric Supply Co (USA), and CNW Electrical (AUS). This allows us to bring the world's best solutions to our customers with the financial backing of combined revenues in excess of US$3 billion collectively.

Our offices in Singapore, Thailand, the Philippines, Korea and Indonesia provide a regional footprint for projects throughout South East Asia, including major shippers.

Company Profile

Our Group

Samios Plumbing Supplies was first opened in 1947 by a father and son team in Hong Kong, trading as a plumbing hardware and earth-moving business. In 1988 the Sam Group purchased the operating unit of the business, which was a different business to the one intended. The foundation business of Sam Group was supplying local plumbing.

The Sam Group is a multi-national company with over 15 companies with offices in over 100 cities and countries of the world. The company provides integrated technical, planning, design, and design management services and solutions for a wide range of customers in various fields.

Commercial Office buildings, educational institutions, healthcare facilities, industrial complexes and pet care, among others.

Industrial Water treatment, sewage treatment, and manufacturing operations, and water and waste management.

Infrastructure Road, bridge, water, gas, and other infrastructure and related services.

We are focused on providing excellent customer service while maintaining the highest level of quality and safety. We are committed to the highest standards of quality and safety.

Since 1947 we have helped our customers achieve success in a range of fields.
